SENATE JOURNAL

SESSION 1995

FIRST DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
Wednesday, January 25, 1995.

In accordance with law, as set forth in the Constitution of the State of North Carolina and G.S. 120-11.1, the Senate of the General Assembly of North Carolina assembles this day, at the hour of 12:00 Noon, in the Senate Chamber of the Legislative Building in the City of Raleigh.

The Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor, calls the Senate to order.

The President extends courtesies of the floor to the spouses of the Senators–elect and to the individuals invited by a Senator–elect and requests that they be seated beside their spouse or host.

The Chair recognizes the Sergeant–at–Arms of the 1993 Session of the General Assembly who announces the arrival of members of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, the North Carolina Court of Appeals, and the Superior Court of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina, at the doors of the Senate and await his direction. The President directs the Sergeant–at–Arms to open the doors of the Senate and escort the members of the Judiciary present to their seats.

PRESENTATION OF THE COLORS

The Chair recognizes the Sergeant–at–Arms of the 1993 Session of the General Assembly who announces the members of The University of North Carolina Clef Hangers are at the door and await his direction. The President directs the Sergeant–at–Arms to open the doors of the Senate and escort the members of The University of North Carolina Clef Hangers to the Well of the Senate. (See Appendix)

The Chair orders the Sergeant–at–Arms of the 1993 Session to open the doors of the Chamber for the presentation of the Colors by the Color Guard Unit of the Naval Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, Havelock High School, Havelock, North Carolina. (See Appendix)

The Chair recognizes The University of North Carolina Clef Hangers who lead the singing of the National Anthem.

The Chair dismisses the Color Guard and The University of North Carolina Clef Hangers who recess from the Senate Chamber.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Led by the Lieutenant Governor, the Senators–elect, distinguished guests, and all of those present remain standing and pledge allegiance to the United States of America.

The President of the Senate introduces the Reverend Mike Morris, serving as Senate Chaplain for the 1995 Session of the General Assembly, who offers prayer as follows:

"Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, when Lieutenant Governor Wicker gavelled and called us to order in this Senate Chamber, he also birthed a new family; the Senate's family made up of members and staff.

"As in any family, the members' unique gifts and perspectives are as varied as the personalities You have given them, as the vocations from which they come, as the people whom they represent.

"As family, even in their differentness, they are bound together by a mutual respect and a common goal, that is to determine what is best for the people of our State. We can ask no more of these men and women than that.

"From You, O Lord, we pray that You will bless this new family; You know them, their needs, their motives, their hopes and their fears. Put Your Arm around them to give them strength and speak to them to give them wisdom greater than their own.

"Remind us always that You are concerned about what is said and done here. Let them hear Your Voice as they seek Your Guidance; this new family called the Senate of North Carolina.

"In Your Most Holy Name, we pray, Amen."

S/Rufus L. Edmisten
(SEAL) Secretary of State

The President of the Senate recognizes The Honorable Burley B. Mitchell, Jr., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, who administers the following oath of office, to which those present respond and subscribe:

"I do solemnly swear or affirm that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and do solemnly and sincerely swear or affirm that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the Constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution and laws of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States, to the best of my knowledge and ability; and I do solemnly and sincerely swear or affirm that I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office as a member of the Senate of the 1995 General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to the best of my knowledge and ability, so help me, God."

With forty-nine Senators responding to the call of the roll, the President declares a quorum of the Senate present and qualified.

REMARKS BY THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

"Congratulations to each and every one of you. And thank you very much, Chief Justice Mitchell, to you and all the members of the Judiciary, for participating in our opening ceremonies, and you certainly lend dignity and honor to this occasion. And now, forty-nine Senators having answered the call of the roll and having taken the oath of office, I declare a quorum present and qualified.

"Members of the Senate, I'd like just to take a brief few moments to make some remarks to you on opening day. First, I want to welcome all of you here to Raleigh on this very special day. Having the privilege to serve our State is a high honor, and I congratulate all of you for your willingness to accept this important responsibility. You and I have an obligation to the citizens of this State, and it's to build a better North Carolina by investing in its most precious resource—our people.

"Members of the Senate, I believe by empowering people we can restore the faith that our citizens have and give them a voice in where we are going and a responsibility to help us get there. To paraphrase President Kennedy, we must ask not what North Carolina can do for us, but ask what we can do for North Carolina. It is our obligation with the people. We will empower them, and if we do this, I am convinced that they will take the empowerment and build upon it to be more productive and responsible as citizens. This is what the people want. This is what government has an obligation to do. This is what my Office has been focusing on.

"When the North Carolina State Board of Community Colleges elected me as Chairman, I outlined as our number one goal in this State of enhancing the job opportunities for our people. Why is this important? Because we live in a State, Members of the Senate, and I'm like Ross Perot on this—I want you to listen up on this one—we live in a State where one-third, one-third of our population is functionally illiterate. If we teach these people literacy skills, if we teach them job skills, they will find meaningful employment. We also live in a State where nearly two-thirds of our high school students today will not be attending a traditional four-year institution of higher learning; two-thirds. We must give them the foundation to go out and get a good job and continue their education and enhance their skills as the marketplace changes.

"So I say to you, Members of the Senate, please keep in mind when you debate welfare reform, we already have one of the very best anti-welfare infrastructure pieces in place, our Community College System. And as you know, our Community College System has a new leader in Dr. Vic Hackley, and I share his vision—that we provide a seamless education for our students in preparing them for their ever-changing global market. A market which places a high premium on skills resulting in productivity. And as Chairman of that Board and sitting as a member of the State Board of Education, I'm going to work hard with you to make that vision a reality by using such concepts as tech prep and school-to-work programs.

"Empowering small businesses has been another focus of my Office. More than ninety percent of all businesses in this State are small businesses. It's not the large businesses, it's the small businesses. Small businesses have been the largest job creators in the past and they're going to be the projected largest job creators in the future. And thanks to the past General Assembly, we are now empowering small businesses to be able to control their own health care costs through small business health care alliances. We are well on our way to providing small businesses with bargaining power to buy health care coverage that they've never had.

"Members of the Senate, let me give you another example of how small businesses are eager to help. I Chair the Small Business Council, and we've just finished drafting a new guide book containing an easy-to-follow recipe on how to do business with the State. And I want you to know that my Office has received hundreds of calls. In fact, in one day my Office received over 150 calls from small business owners who are interested in obtaining this new guide book. A common sense solution to an identified problem, that's what our people want from government.

"And as you know, my Office has also been working hard on measures that prevent the tragedy of drunken driving. Thanks to the past General Assembly, the .08 law has reduced drunk driving deaths and injuries to the lowest level ever.

And we must do more. I Chaired the Governor's Task Force on the Driving While Impaired, serving with Senator Odom and Senator Forrester, and by continuing to be pro-active, the package of recommendations by this Task Force will do even more to stop drunk driving and help prevent repeat offenders—repeat offenders from getting behind the wheel in this State.

"And finally, I'll be working very closely with the Governor to cut taxes. I very deeply believe, deeply believe that we must provide relief to our working families. It's working families who pay the most cost of government, and they're the ones who deserve the relief.

"Members of the Senate, as your presiding officer, I pledge to you my commitment to working with you. My role is best served as being a facilitator for your agenda. And every presiding officer has his or her own leadership style. I hope I have a reputation for being fair-minded and even-handed. But I'll tell you what I told those in orientation, I expect order, and I believe that we have an obligation to conduct ourselves with dignity while the Senate is in session. Remember that the eyes of the public are upon you, and we must lead by example. We are here to help our people and empower them the opportunities that will help them reach their full potential. I believe that this is the true function of government, empowering our people promotes and enriches our most precious resource, and this is a legacy that I believe that we should leave behind so that generations to follow us will inherit a better quality of life in this State. And I look forward to working with you as your Lieutenant Governor in pursuit of that legacy. Thank you very much."

The Senate responds with a standing ovation.

The President directs the Reading Clerk to read, as follows:

The Order of the State Board of Elections attached reads as follows:

BEFORE THE NORTH CAROLINA
STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS

IN RE:
N.C. STATE SENATE DISTRICT 15) ORDER

In resolution of all appeals currently pending before the State Board of Elections and based upon the administrative record, the Board enters the following order:

1. That the results of the recount concluded on December 28, 1994, in State Senate District 15 show a tie between Democratic candidate Elaine Marshall and Republican candidate Dan Page.

2. Based upon the results of the recount concluded on December 28, 1994, and pursuant to G.S. 163–191, it is hereby ordered that a special election for State Senate District 15 shall be held by the county boards of election in Lee, Harnett, Johnston, and Sampson on March 28, 1995.

3. In all counties in District 15, both political parties may appoint persons to serve as precinct judges where any vacancies currently exist. Any person so appointed shall only serve as judge in the precinct to which they are appointed for this special election. For this special election, persons so appointed must be residents of District 15 and the county in which they are appointed, but need not be residents of the precincts in which they are appointed. Any persons appointed by either party to serve as precinct judges shall have their names submitted by the county chairman of their respective party to the chairman of the county board of elections on or before March 17, 1995.

4. In each county, all precinct chief judges and precinct judges, including but not limited to those judges appointed pursuant to the terms of this order, shall attend a three–hour training session to be held by each county board of elections during the week of March 20, 1995, on or before March 23, 1995. All county board members and a representative from the State Board of Elections will attend each training session.

5. For purposes of this special election, either political party may appoint to the position of observer persons who are not residents of the precinct in which they are appointed provided they are residents of District 15 and the county in which they are appointed. In all other respects, the appointment of observers shall be governed by the provisions of G.S. 163–45, including, but not limited to, the requirement that individuals authorized to appoint observers (the chairman of each political party) must, prior to 10:00 a.m. on the fifth day prior to the special election (March 23, 1995), submit in writing to the chairman of the county board of elections two signed copies of a list of observers appointed by them designating the precinct for which each observer is appointed.

6. On the day of the special election, a representative of the State Board of Elections shall be present in each county from the time the polls are opened until vote totals from all precincts are reported to the county board.

7. In Lee County, a representative of the State Board of Elections shall be present in each precinct before the polls are opened and until vote totals are calculated and ballots are sealed in the ballot box in accordance with the requirements of the General Statutes. The representative of the State Board of Elections will take possession of each precinct's ballot box after it is sealed.

8. In Lee County, a representative of the State Board of Elections shall be present at the Lee County Board of Elections for the counting of absentee and transfer ballots and shall take possession of those ballots after they are counted and sealed in accordance with the General Statutes.

9. All ballots used in all counties shall only contain the names of the two candidates and shall not contain provisions for straight ticket voting. The ballots will also show the party affiliation of each candidate in the customary manner.

10. For this special election, the county boards of election in Harnett, Johnston, and Sampson shall use the voting systems used in those counties during the 1994 General Election.

11. For this special election, in Lee County voting shall be done by traditional paper ballots that will be printed by the State Board of Elections. All ballots in each precinct shall be counted only by the precinct officials for each precinct. Any ballot that is disputed by any of the precinct officials shall be segregated from the other ballots for the precinct by placing them in a sealed envelope signed and dated by each precinct official. The envelope containing disputed ballots shall be placed in the precinct's ballot box and sealed with the other ballots for the precinct.

12. In all counties observers and members of the public shall have full and complete access to observe the counting of ballots.

13. It is stipulated by candidates Elaine Marshall and Dan Page that neither of them will appeal this order and that Page will dismiss his petition for judicial review of previous orders of the State Board, now pending in Wake County Superior Court as 94 CIV 11980.

14. In all respects not addressed by this order, this special election shall be conducted under the supervision of the State Board of Elections and in accordance with the appropriate procedures contained in Chapter 163 of the General Statutes.

ORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE

The President announces the Senate ready to proceed with the election of officers, and declares the floor open to nominations for a President Pro Tempore of the Senate, pursuant to Article II, Section 14(1) of the North Carolina Constitution.

The President recognizes Senator Martin of Pitt who offers the following nomination and remarks:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. It is my honor and a special privilege for me to introduce to you a man who was my seatmate for eight years before he left for better things, and also the appointee by the Democratic Party, or the Democratic majority of this Senate, to be President Pro Tem. In some cases, Mr. President, we find ourselves having to restrict ourselves on some things we say about candidates when they're being introduced. But this is not the case today.

"In Marc Basnight we have a candidate who has a track record with us and we've seen him make it, compile it, day by day. We know what he can do and what he will do, and we have complete confidence and trust and he is worthy of that trust. Marc is and has been an excellent State Senator for ten years, now beginning his eleventh year in this Body. He has prepared himself thoroughly for this opportunity. Having spent (some of you might not know it, some of you do know it) he spent hours in Raleigh learning for himself the process of State government and he's done well.

"Marc has earned not only the respect of this Body, but the House of Representatives and the public at large. Marc Basnight is a man that is committed. Committed to the Senate of North Carolina and to the State of North Carolina. He is committed to basic values. I know, when I say values in today's society, you get into trouble, you get into an argument whose values they are. Safe saying is honor, truth, and duty are not an arguable value. So, therefore, Marc is dedicated to that, and to the process of opening up State government for everyone to serve.

"All of you are familiar with his, not only causing legislation to be sponsored in order to open up State government, but he has pursued that legislation and he has the Senate to pass it and pass it on to the House; to the proper education of our children in the State of North Carolina. Especially, he has paid attention to the have–not–schools, so called, the ones of low wealth, and the ones in real small...and they have a very difficult time in trying to achieve the goal that has been set for them by the State Board of Education. Sometimes we ask why shouldn't all students in this State have the same chance and opportunity.

"To this end, Marc has dedicated himself. To those in need, to the economic development in this State, from the mountains to the coast. You might not be familiar with it, but Marc was one of the first ones to propose to the Department of Commerce, regionalism, which we have gone into, and caused a bill to be drafted for northeastern North Carolina, and one for southeastern North Carolina, to set themselves aside as a regional district in order to better economically develop. They've always asked the question 'What is Raleigh doing for me? Why aren't they paying us attention?' This gives them an opportunity to look at themselves and maybe they can find out what the problem is.

"And the list goes on and on, Mr. President. Especially he's committed also to the physical responsibility of this State. And his record as President Pro Tempore is excellent. He is well known, having traveled this State on occasions from coast to the mountains, trying to get the proper legislation for our universities, in that good time to issue bonds, and he saw that opportunity and he made it his point to promote it, possibly calling on every editor and newspaper in the State of North Carolina. You know the results of that effort.

"He has unified this Body as never before, paying attention to and giving equal consideration to all groups. He's proved to be a skillful negotiator when it comes to conferees and to the House.

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, we need Marc Basnight's commitment as never before. Therefore, I nominate our friend and present leader, Senator Marc Basnight, for the Office of President Pro Tempore of the 1995 General Assembly, and urge your support for this nomination."

The President recognizes Senator Martin of Guilford who offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President, Members of the Senate, guests, visitors. I am very pleased to be able to stand before you and second the nomination of Senator Marc Basnight as President Pro Tempo of the North Carolina Senate. Many of the great qualities have been mentioned to you by Senator Bob Martin; but just to say a few words.

"Senator Marc Basnight is a person who has given us and shown us that there's proven leadership, included among, which I would have to say, that, we would, say with no doubt, that he has exercised sound judgment during the time that he has served us previously in this capacity. Among the qualities that I believe it is important to point out would be the situation of trust. We all do have faith and trust in the abilities, the leadership abilities that have been exhibited by Senator Basnight. And his basic instincts, among which are fairness, which is extremely important; a desire to do that which is right; and also sensitivity to a wide range of concerns, including those of business, the consumer, also in terms of the wealthy, the poor, the economic middle class, the diverse racial ethnic make–up within the State of North Carolina, and also the geographic regions of the State. He has made special efforts to present balanced viewpoints and arrive at consensus that exhibit that balanced viewpoint that all of us can safely follow and be proud of. Accordingly, we would have to say that he's a man that does possess wisdom, knowledge and understanding, and that is exhibited throughout the entire period that he has given us leadership.

"And finally, I would just indicate in closing that balanced viewpoints, balance is going to be particularly important this term, probably more so than it has been in the past, because there are a number of interests, competing interests. There's a lot of controversy that might arise and all of us have the confidence, who know him, that Marc Basnight is the person that can strike the proper balance to make sure that the Senate of North Carolina, the North Carolina General Assembly, and the State, is one whose policies and practices will go down in history as being solid and sound. Thank you, Mr. President."

The President recognizes Senator Kincaid of Caldwell who offers the following nomination and remarks:

"I would like to make a nomination for this Office. Thank you, Mr. President, guests, and Members of the Senate. I rise to nominate Senator Betsy Cochrane for this Office, and I want to tell you Members why. As you probably know, there's been a new day in the political scene in North Carolina and in the nation. The voters of this State, as you know, have kicked out of the traces and demanded a government of less taxes and less involvement in their lives, and I think Senator Speed would understand, probably more than anyone else, what I mean by kicking out of our traces. Many people in elective office now realize the mood of the public. Our current Governor, up to last year, probably had never seen a government program that he didn't like, and now he's trying to outbid us Republicans in tax relief. And this is good. No one can benefit by this better than the public, the taxpayers. In fact, this has created an atmosphere in this Body that I have often wished for and never seen, and we now have this atmosphere. We Republicans appreciate the fairness of Senator Basnight in the past. I've served here, as you know, a long time, and I can truthfully say I've never served with a more fair and more effective Pro Tem than Senator Basnight. However, the voters of this great State have placed a tremendous responsibility in the hands of us Republicans this year. Due to our numbers we sincerely believe it's our responsibility to offer a new direction for more conservative government and be involved in people's lives less.

"This is indeed a new day. And for that reason, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it's a pleasure for me to introduce Senator Betsy Cochrane for this Office of Senate Pro Tem. I had the pleasure of knowing the Senator from Davie County for a long time. As you Members of the Senate are probably aware, Betsy has served in the House four terms, where she served as Minority Leader, and she's also served now, this will be her fourth term in the Senate.

"There are many things that I could say about Senator Cochrane, but I want to condense it due to the lack of time. She is a graduate of Meredith College here in Raleigh. She taught school in the public schools and private schools in North Carolina for, I think, about approximately eleven years. She is also active in her church where she taught Sunday School for seventeen years. Senator Cochrane possesses that ingredient that I think is essential to any politician to be successful, and that is ample common sense. She has plenty of common sense. Senator Cochrane and her husband, Joe, who is here with us today—she has a son and a daughter. Senator Cochrane is truly a lady, an experienced legislator, and a very knowledgeable legislator.

"It is indeed a pleasure and an honor for me to introduce and recommend Senator Cochrane for this Office. Thank you very much."

The President recognizes Senator Little of Moore who offers the following remarks:

"I rise to second the nomination of Senator Betsy Cochrane.

"Mr. President, as I rise this afternoon to second the nomination of Senator Betsy Cochrane as President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, I am reminded of the words of Bank of America Vice President Shelly Porges, when she observed 'To keep ahead in this dynamic environment in which the rules are constantly changing, requires more than simply a change in structure. It requires a change in our whole way of thinking.'

"To my friends and colleagues of this Chamber, I say it is a pleasure to second the nomination of Betsy Cochrane because it represents a significant change from the policies of the past. Senator Cochrane represents the hope for the future that North Carolina voters demanded on the first Tuesday in November of 1994. Senator Cochrane has been a leader in the General Assembly since her election to the House of Representatives in 1980, the first woman ever from her district. In 1983–84, she was the first woman to serve in a leadership role of the Republican Joint Caucus. During her eight years in the House of Representatives, she was also the first woman ever elected as House Minority Leader. This position continued to underscore the precedent already set by Senator Cochrane as an agent of change. So significant were her contributions to the affairs of the North Carolina House of Representatives that the National Republican Legislators Association selected her as one of their ten top legislators in the nation.

"After serving with distinction in the House of Representatives for eight years, Senator Cochrane became the first woman from her district to be elected to the North Carolina Senate. Since the first day of the first term, she has served this Body with honor and distinction. Her credentials and qualifications are impeccable. She is a career educator, a member of the Board of the Public School Forum, a member of the Governor's Advocacy Council on Children and Youth, the Governor's Program of Excellence in Education, and the Governor's Commission on Work Force Preparedness. She has served this Body on the Advisory Budget Committee, the Economic Futures Commission, the Commission on Aging, the Legislative Ethics Committee of the General Assembly, and the Legislative Services Commission. When not in Raleigh, she is working for the good of her district and the State. She is at home contributing her time and energies to a variety of cultural and civic activities, including the North Carolina Symphony Guild, the North Carolina Museum of History Associates, and the North Carolina Arts Society. Locally she works with and supports the Piedmont Health Systems Agency and the Heart Fund. Through fourteen years of service to the institution of the North Carolina General Assembly, Senator Cochrane has been in the forefront of this Body's activities and efforts. Her devotion, commitment, fairness, intelligence, and energy are exceeded only by her perseverance. Having worked in these halls for many years, she has heard the word 'no' on more than one occasion, yet she has continued to be tireless in her efforts on behalf of North Carolina citizens. There is a fire in her heart that will not let her quit or say 'no' to the reasonable demands of the people in her district and this State.

"My fellow colleagues, Senator Cochrane is a true leader and an agent of change. Those citizens who exercised their civic duty in November demanded a change, and we today are in a position to give them what they have requested. It is my high honor and happy privilege to second the nomination of my friend of twenty years, Senator Betsy Cochrane, for President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate. Thank you, Mr. President."

Hearing no further nominations the Chair directs the members of the Senate to answer the call of the roll and cast their vote for the President Pro Tempore nominee of their choice.

Those voting for Senator Basnight are: Senators Albertson, Ballance, Basnight, Conder, Cooper, Dannelly, Edwards, Gulley, Hobbs, Hoyle, Jordan, Kerr, Lucas, Martin of Pitt, Martin of Guilford, Odom, Parnell, Perdue, Plexico, Plyler, Rand, Sherron, Soles, Speed, Warren, and Winner—26.

Those voting for Senator Cochrane are: Senators Allran, Ballantine, Blackmon, Carpenter, Carrington, Clark, Cochrane, Davis, East, Forrester, Foxx, Hartsell, Horton, Kincaid, Ledbetter, Little, McDaniel, McKoy, Sawyer, Shaw, Simpson, Smith, and Webster—23.

The President announces Senator Marc Basnight of Dare County receives 26 votes and Senator Betsy Cochrane of Davie County receives 23 votes and declares Senator Marc Basnight of Dare County elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate for the 1995 Session.

The Chair recognizes Senator Cochrane of Davie County who offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, Mr. President. I realize that the President Pro Tempore is not here, but I think it's important for all of the Body that is here to know that the twenty-three Republican Senators offer their congratulations to the person who has been elected to President Pro Tempore of this Senate. We are here to pledge our support to all Senators of good will to do good government issues in this Session of the General Assembly. We have made this gesture today to show we are here in numbers significant enough to be taken seriously and to be serious players in the process. What has happened here today is not historically new. It has been done in the House of Representatives for years. It is done in Congress always.

It is merely a gesture to show we are duly elected members of this Body here to do a job; and we Republicans are here committed to do the job for the people that elected us, and we today are pledging our support for the duly elected leadership of this Body and we do intend to be people of good will as members of the Senate of North Carolina. And we join all of you in the unanimity of being behind our leader in the work that has to be done in this Senate Body for good government. And I would ask that these remarks be spread upon the Journal so that people know the Republicans have the intention of working together in this Body for the two-year term ahead. Thank you, Mr. President."

The President appoints Senator Hoyle of Gaston County, Senator Lucas of Durham County, Senator Plexico of Henderson County, and Senator Speed of Franklin County to escort the President Pro Tempore-elect, Marc Basnight, to the Well of the Senate. Senator Hoyle of Gaston County addresses the Chair and presents the President Pro Tempore-elect, Marc Basnight.

The Chair directs the Sergeant-at-Arms to escort the wife of the President Pro Tempore-elect, Sandy Basnight, to the Well of the Senate where she joins Senator Basnight as he receives the prescribed oath of office. The Honorable Burley B. Mitchell, Jr., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina, administers the prescribed oath of office.

The President recognizes Senator Marc Basnight, President Pro Tempore, who addresses the membership from the Well of the Senate and offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, thank you so very much. The wait outside the doors is long and questionable when you're there wondering why you haven't opened those up. Senator Cochrane, to you and the Republican members of this Body, and to the Democratic members, November 8th is over. We are one people, working for one goal and one mission, and our successes, we'll succeed together. With the contributions that you have made and those that you will be making in the future, I salute you, and thank you for the kind of person that you are, a great North Carolinian.

"To the Lieutenant Governor, and to Justice Mitchell, and our family of members of the Court, I thank you for being with us today; to my friends, and most especially, my wife, and my mom, and family back home, I thank you.

"Distinguished guests and all. It is a wonderful opportunity that beholds all who will seize upon that opportunity.

"It is an honor to be re-elected as the President of this Senate. Much has happened in the past that has made North Carolina a great place to live, but a great deal is before us.

"I sincerely hope that we can and will work bipartisanly in a spirit that led last year to the unanimous decisions in several Senate bills including our 1993 budget. I think we can, because I believe that the people in this chamber agree that we should do only what is best for the people of this great State of ours. In some instances that may mean a more effective and efficient government and in others it may simply mean less government intrusion.

"I believe that government should help people or get out of the way. Our job is to make sure that this balance between citizens and the government is maintained.

"Our people want a high quality of life and they richly deserve it and they expect the government to play a role in making it such a reality. Government has a responsibility to keep our streets safe, to provide opportunity for job growth, to educate our children properly. Government must also govern efficiently and effectively and responsibly.

"North Carolinians have every right to complain about their government. She traditionally always has. But, they also have the right to expect government to do some good things to make our State a better place to live.

"Our goal should be to drive North Carolina towards a better opportunity not just for her people today, but for those people of tomorrow.

"What happens in the next generation, in the next decade, is dictated by what we do today, just as what we do today is directed by the actions of those who came before us. Over the years our Constitution has been our roadmap and our compass, our direction, our light, our beacon. But we know that times change and needs change, as well.

"It is good to consider Constitutional changes that will make our government more efficient and more effective, and certainly, more accountable, for great reason. Senate proposals on veto, governance, the Homestead Exemption, alternative punishments, and victim's rights certainly meet that standard today.

"Senator Cooper, if the House and Senate can't muster three–fifths of our members to pass the spending bill, the document is probably of very dubious value. Every four years citizens from across this great State elect their leader, the Governor. The people expect the Governor to carry out the agenda laid out so carefully in the campaign, but he is granted few tools to influence the legislative process.

"I think the Governor should have the authority to say 'no' to the General Assembly and be accountable to the people for his actions. We are the only State in the Union, we all realize that, that doesn't grant the Governor the veto power. During the budget process, as many of you have seen and witnessed, and I being one, both Democrat and Republican Governors have had to await their time or their opportunity to be involved in the budget process across the street, just for an opportunity to advance their agenda. That person elected by all the people of this great State of ours.

"The current Governor supports veto power, the last Governor supported it, and all before him that we know of. The Senate has passed the Amendment before. I want the people to simply have a chance to decide the issue at the ballot box this year.

"Another bill that the Senate passed last year was Governance for Public Education. This is also an issue of accountability. There is a crisis in education in North Carolina and it has resulted in a circle of educators and politicians such as ourselves all pointing the blame at each other when they really should be pointing the blames—where—at ourselves.

"We must establish clear lines of authority and we will endeavor to do so both through statute and the Constitutional Amendment. The North Carolina Constitution originally preserved the State Board of Education, appointed by the Governor, as the leader in education and the elected Superintendent of Public Instruction as its Administrative Officer.

"By making the Superintendent an appointed position we will take an important step in establishing accountability for our successes or failures in education.

Senate education proposals will make the Governor the clear education leader in North Carolina and will place authority in his hands and the hands of his appointees.

"These steps may appear to strengthen the Governor. They do. They both strengthen and provide more accountability for our government. The Governor, however, is not the only position that should be empowered.

"I recommend that we empower local government through a constitutional amendment. Local government is closest to the people and it is also the most restricted by all levels of government. Let's unshackle the local government in its opportunity to help senior citizens in their homes. The State Constitution restricts that local governments in many ways that may or may not be entirely beneficial to our citizens—and the Homestead Exemption Act is one example.

"When the General Assembly enacted the Homestead Exemption for the elderly it was intended to help our senior citizens with little personal wealth other than the homes that they live in. The exemption has helped some seniors hold onto their family homes today, but barely so.

"Our State is both large and diverse, as we all realize, from the mountains to the coast. Geographically it defines its differences as well. It's what helps create such tremendous beauty. Counties should be able to allow for disparities in real estate values by altering the homestead exemption to target their local population that needs a helping hand. The State Constitution denies that authority to local government today. We can change it, along with the people of this great State. Senator Cooper will propose that we change the Constitution and let the people decide.

"Another amendment to the Constitution, Senator Albertson's alternative punishments bill, is a step in the right direction and it will grant the appropriate authority to our judges. It is a disgrace that in North Carolina a criminal can say 'no' to a judge and demonstrate his own fate. Hard to believe, but it is true.

"The State Constitution is written so narrowly that a judge can sentence a criminal to tough probation standards and compensation to victims, and the criminal can opt for an active sentence, as we all realize and understand, instead of what is offered. After a few weeks lifting weights or studying or doing the many different things that people do in prison, the criminal is done. The options are over. He can walk the streets never worrying about paying back the victim or victim's family for the pain that the crime could have caused, and never worrying about complying with probation and community service.

"It is no wonder that in 1993 when Senator Albertson's bill that was proposed as a constitutional amendment to give total authority to the sentencing judge, it passed this Chamber unanimously. I firmly believe that when people commit crimes, they give up their right to determine their own future. It is our right as citizens to expect the criminal justice system to be effective and just. This amendment will mean that criminals are treated as criminals and their fate will be determined and decided by the courts.

"These days it too often seems that the only people with rights are the criminals. You feel it sometimes in your communities when you face the same one time in and time out. Their rights, it seems, are protected by the United States Constitution, as it rightfully should, and also the North Carolina Constitution. But, where are victim's rights protected today?

"A 1993 LRC report recommended that equal treatment for crime victims should be best accomplished through a victims' rights amendment to the State Constitution. Many of you have read that report. I'll repeat it again.

"'Adopting a constitutional amendment would grant permanence to victims' rights. An amendment would place victims' rights alongside the defendants' rights, adding credibility and stability,' to the criminal justice process.

"I hope you will join Senator Ed Warren and Senator Forrester and others who sponsored victims' rights amendments in the past and see to it that this amendment is on the ballot for the people to decide this year. If we aren't doing justice by the victim of a crime then we aren't doing justice at all.

"It is very important that the punishment fit the crime. You may recall that I mentioned that government should help people or get out of their way. When it comes to public safety, people expect government to help them and protect their families and their homes and their property. It is the very most basic duty of government to maintain order.

"As free citizens, we are entitled to walk our streets and relax in our homes in safety. It's rightful. When criminals take away my right and your right, and the right of my family and yours, to be safe in our streets, in our front yards, in our homes, we are no longer free.

"From the beginning of society, people have been wronged by others. Today's level of wrongdoing is too high for my tolerance, and I'm sure too high for your tolerance as well. Despite our efforts in prevention and punishment, North Carolina continues to be much, much too violent.

"Let us not forget, however, that the other side of criminal activity is job opportunity. We need to focus on both punishment and prevention. Punishment is the responsibility of the criminal justice system, but the best prevention program is a good job and a good education. No one can disagree with such.

"For those who choose the path of crime, their reward will be prison; for those who seek the path of opportunity, we should be prepared to reward them with good jobs and a good education. The promise of opportunity can steer a troubled youth away from crime and towards a much better and more productive life in society. Who are the winners? You and I, and all of North Carolina.

"Here again, government should help or get out of the way in such a process. Government can help people by maintaining our quality of life, protecting our abundant natural resources, and by providing the basics of business infrastructure.

"Beyond the basics, however, Senator Sherron, government should show restraint. I remember the old story where a farmer says to his neighbor, 'You know, that weather forecaster on the government radio station is always wrong.' 'Don't complain,' remarked the second farmer. 'Think about how bad it would be if the government started regulating the weather instead of just predicting it!'

"Rules and regulations should only be implemented when they are clearly drawn and clearly necessary for their purpose. There should be value in the regulation for the people of this great State. We should be careful to consider the costs and benefits of the rules our bureaucracy creates, and we need to outline clear authority to object and stop rules that do not meet our standards and our needs and hat will advance opportunity and good fortunes for people of North Carolina.

"We should also make certain that our tax burden is not a disincentive for recruiting new industry and encouraging current industry to expand. As you know, I see the intangibles tax as a significant disincentive.

"I firmly believe that a repeal of the intangibles tax will benefit all of our State. Eliminating this nuisance tax will result in more people calling North Carolina home, and paying taxes here, and more businesses coming our way. It's a pretty good deal, isn't it?

"To maintain local industry and seek to attract new jobs, the Senate will work responsibly to reduce the corporate income tax rate and bring it more in line with our competitor states. We find ourselves in the highest of the comparable charts in the Southeast. It has been cited by many as a red flag to industry looking to locate in North Carolina, and the Governor and several members of this Chamber have recommended that we scale it back. Let's be successful.

"As we consider incentives for industry recruitment and good jobs, I also believe that we must consider the needs of the working people in North Carolina, those who got up early this morning and put their boots on, their coats and ties, do the jobs of their responsibilities in North Carolina to make their families successful. Our tax system should encourage these families to stay together and reward people who work hard to put bread on the table.

"Keep in mind, that for every tax cut, we must identify to some extent, some reasonable extent, a cut in government and a cut in the budget itself. What's being proposed today is far greater in numbers than we have the ability to reduce from the budget without a cut itself. We should be seeking efficiencies and we must maintain our fiscal integrity. Where we have duplication in government, it should be purged from the system itself. Where we have mismanagement, it has to be removed. North Carolina has maintained its triple–A bond rating through responsible budgeting. The bond rating saves taxpayers monies every day, as you well know, in local government, those of you who have joined us today, because North Carolina can borrow at the lowest rates that are available in this country.

"Budgeting responsibly is a legacy that we owe our future generations of North Carolinians. The 'Rainy Day Fund' which we created in this Body not many years ago now stands at almost $300 million. Growing quickly in the next two or three years to $500 million. I think our goal should be double that level and establish a billion plus dollar savings account for North Carolina.

"A savings reserve will help allow North Carolina to keep the prisons operating in this State, our schools, public schools, in good repair and operating properly, roads repairs, and doing the things we hate to do, and that's to maintain our prisons. To keep us out of a very difficult time that can occur when a recession does come. Without the 'Rainy Day Fund,' you may find higher taxes are necessary to keep those essential services going. I support the 'rainy day' fund, as all of you do. It's a savings, because it is a taxpayer protection for today and for our children.

"As we talk about our future in concert with tax cuts and budget cuts, I admit that I am concerned, as many of you are. I would be excited about the prospect, if I thought North Carolina was where we want it to be. But you need look no further than public education to realize that North Carolina has a very long way to go.

"Education is a subject that has been one of the top priorities of government for as long as I, or anyone in this Chamber, have been in the Senate. It is an area where government must help and also at the same time, get out of the way. We must help, by providing an equal and adequate education for the children in North Carolina and we are not doing enough in that regard today. We must get out of the way and spend less time testing children like guinea pigs and creating more time for teachers in the classroom.

"While many of the educational initiatives we have started in recent years are beginning to show some promise, none of us can be satisfied with the lack of progress our schools are making today.

"Two weeks ago, for instance, we learned that two–thirds of our high school students are performing below acceptable standards in their core classes. For the second year in a row our drop–out rates are climbing. After over a decade of investing in schools, in North Carolina, North Carolina remains next–to–last on the national SAT rankings.

"I, for one, am not willing to accept that our State's schools continue to languish near the bottom of the nation's educational rankings. I believe it is time for us to take bold steps and move North Carolina public education towards respectability.

"To do that, I am proposing that we focus our efforts and deal with basic problems in very common sense ways.

"The first thing we need to do is to clarify who is in charge of education, and with that, who is accountable if things aren't working. We aren't going to solve our education problems as long as everyone is accountable and at the same time no one is accountable.

"We have studied the school governance issue only to find that over the last two decades we have changed education governance and taken authority away from the State Board and granted more and more power to the bureaucracy. It hasn't worked and it isn't going to work. I propose that we put things back as they were and that we give the State Board the constitutional responsibility that was taken away from it. With Jay Robinson heading up the State Board, I have confidence that they are up to the job and are prepared to be held accountable.

"As all of you know, this Body has been willing to take up the issue of governance before, but we have focused our energies on constitutional changes which would take years before making an impact. What you are being asked to support today is a far simpler approach which would take effect immediately. I ask you to join me in restoring constitutional authority to the State Board and make it clear that the State Board is the body that will be held accountable for schooling in North Carolina.

"The second issue to be addressed is the proper role of state government in education. I propose that one of our first orders of business will be to take up a bill which will be introduced by Senator Perdue and a number of our colleagues. The bill would charge the State Board of Education to work immediately and come back to us no later than May, four months from now, with a plan that:

Clearly defines and reduces the role of the Department of Public Instruction—a plan that spells out the appropriate role of State government while empowering local communities to make the decisions they need to make for their schools and their children;

I also want the State Board to come back to us with a plan that would reduce the size of the Department of Public Instruction by fifty percent. Our GPAC study laid out a plan which could be a roadmap for the State Board and it hasn't even been followed. I would like the State Board to take the GPAC recommendations and use their very best judgments and come back to us with a plan that would result in savings of tax dollars, a clear focus for the department, and a more efficient organization.

"This bold approach will only work if we take up this bill immediately and pass it early in the Session. I am optimistic that this approach will be supported by our colleagues in the House; they publicly campaigned on a platform calling for a limit to the role of the State government and a return of power to our local communities. If both houses can cooperate on this proposed legislation, I am convinced the State Board can have a plan back to us before we adjourn this year. Then we can adjourn having redefined the role of government in education, reducing the role of government in education, reducing the size of State government and establishing clear authority, once and for all, and the accountability for education in North Carolina.

"Third, before this Session ends, I want us to have clearly stated what North Carolina wants from its schools. Since 1989, we have been holding schools accountable for over fifty things and we have added so many new tests that some think there is very little time left for teaching in the classroom.

"I am proposing that we take the advice being given us by the Standards and Accountabilities Commission and ask our schools to focus on the very basics—reading, writing, and mathematics. With that, I am asking you to support a proposal that would limit the number of things we ask schools to be accountable for, limit the number of tests we administer and make this clear statement to the schools and the public.

"When someone graduates from a North Carolina High School, they will be able to read well, they will be able to write clearly, and they will have a basic command of math. In short, they will be the kind of graduate that is prepared to succeed in my community and your community college or university, the kind of graduate you and I would want to have, would have the opportunity to employ, as well.

"Last, I share Governor Hunt's concern about safety in our schools. Senator Albertson, we can't have excellence coming out of our school doors if students are afraid to walk in them.

"Towards that end, I believe we need to act on proposals such as establishing alternative schools for chronically disruptive or dangerous students, Senator Ballance. School principals should have greater authority to help chronically destructive or disruptive or violent students and see that they are removed from the school room, but given an opportunity to succeed in another classroom setting. We need to find ways to deal with violent young people that will give parents the assurances that public schools are a safe place once again for their children.

"What I am asking you to support in this Session are basic proposals which I believe are the first steps toward making North Carolina the educational respectability that it so richly deserves. I need your support, as we need each other:

To take steps our schools must be the safest that we can make those,

To make it abundantly clear that the focus of North Carolina's schools is on giving our young people the strongest possible foundation in the basics again—reading, writing, and mathematics,

To take State government out of micro managing schools by defining and limiting the role of the State bureaucracy, Senator Plyler,

To save taxpayer's money by downsizing the educational bureaucracy,

To restore the constitutional authority of the State Board of Education and establish clear lines of accountability for our schools.

"That is ambitious, it is an agenda for our schools. It is an agenda that I believe this Body can accomplish and I call on each of you, Republican or Democrat, to make this agenda your priority for the 1995 Session of the General Assembly.

"In each of the issues I have outlined, I have tried to stress two points:

"First, government's mission should be to help people and provide a high quality opportunity of what life can give us all. We expect government to maintain public safety and provide education for our children.

"Second, where government is not helping people, it should step aside. Where government is not representing the people effectively it should change.

"Members of this Body, government is about you and I. Government is about people. That is why I serve in the General Assembly I'm sure that's why you serve here also. We are here to help people and protect them from government intrusion. We are here to help people and protect them as we rightfully should in their own public interest, from the outside forces that change our lives. As we cut government, we cut taxes, and cut regulations, we must be certain to consider the impact on the people. We should seek to make their lives better, not more difficult.

"I propose that we amend the State Constitution to make North Carolina more effective, more efficient, and more accountable.

"I propose that we do more to make our streets safe for honest citizens.

"I propose that we work hard to create and sustain high–quality jobs for North Carolinians.

"I propose that we change a failed education system, grant more local control of education, focus on filling our classrooms with success in learning the basics, and take fear out of the hallways of our schools. North Carolina needs to get back to the basics in education and in governing. We need to help people or get out of their way."

Courtesies of the floor are extended to former Senators present and to Thaddeus M. Wester, M.D., acting Physician for the Day.

The Chair extends a very special courtesy to Mrs. Dennis A. Wicker, wife of the Lieutenant Governor, and to Mrs. Burley B. Mitchell, Jr., wife of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

He shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the Senate. A two–thirds vote of the membership of the Senate present and voting is necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Presiding Officer.

(b) In the event the Senate Rules do not provide for, or cover any point of order raised by any Senator, the rules of the United States House of Representatives shall govern.

(c) When a Senator is called to order he shall take his seat until the Presiding Officer determines whether he was in order or not; if decided to be out of order, he shall not proceed without the permission of the Senate; and every question of order shall be decided by the Presiding Officer, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator; and if a Senator is called to order for words spoken, the words to which an exception is made shall be immediately taken down in writing by the Principal Clerk, so that the Presiding Officer or Senate may be better able to judge the matter.

RULE 11. Debating and voting by Lieutenant Governor.—The Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, being a Constitutional Officer shall not have the right to debate any question or to address the Senate upon any proposition unless by permission of the majority of members present, and shall have the right to vote only when there is a tie vote upon any question or election.

RULE 12. Obtaining recognition.—(a) When any Senator is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Presiding Officer. No member shall speak further until recognized by the Presiding Officer. The Presiding Officer shall recognize the first to rise and, when two or more members rise at the same time, the Presiding Officer shall name the member to speak.

(b) A Senator who has the floor may yield the floor to another Senator only for the purpose of allowing another Senator to state a question. Only the Presiding Officer may award the floor to any Senator.

(c) A Senator who has obtained the floor may be interrupted only for the following reasons:

1. A request that the member speaking yield for a question,
2. A point of order, or
3. A parliamentary inquiry.

(d) When a Senator refers to a bill, the bill number and short title must be used.

RULE 13. (Reserved for future use).

RULE 14. Limitations on individual debate.—(a) No Senator shall speak on the same reading more than twice on the main question, nor longer than thirty minutes for the first speech and fifteen minutes for the second speech. No Senator shall speak on the same reading more than once on any motion or appeal, and then no longer than ten minutes.

(b) By permission of the Presiding Officer any member of the Senate may address the Senate from the well of the Senate.

RULE 15. Questions of personal privilege.—Upon recognition by the Presiding Officer for that purpose, any Senator may speak to a question of personal privilege for a time not exceeding three minutes. Personal privilege may not be used to explain a vote, debate a bill, or in any way disrupt the regular business of the Senate. Personal privilege shall not be used to solicit support or sponsors for any bill. The Presiding Officer shall determine if the question raised is one of privilege and shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.

RULE 16. (Reserved for future use).

RULE 17. General decorum.—(a) Male Senators and male visitors shall uncover their heads upon entering the Senate Chamber while the Senate is in session and shall continue uncovered during their continuance in the Chamber, unless one's religion requires his head to be covered.

(b) No derogatory remark reflecting personally upon any Senator shall be in order upon the floor of the Senate unless preceded by a motion or resolution of censure.

(c) When the Presiding Officer is putting a question, or a division by counting is in progress, no Senator shall walk out of or across the Chamber, nor when a Senator is speaking, pass between him and the Presiding Officer.

(d) When a motion to adjourn or for recess is affirmatively determined, no member or officer shall leave his place until adjournment or recess is declared by the Presiding Officer.

(e) Smoking shall not be allowed in the galleries of the Senate during sessions.

(f) No remark soliciting the donation of funds for the support of any person or organization shall be in order upon the floor of the Senate, unless the remark has some relevance to a bill or resolution before the body. No article of any kind soliciting business or donations may be placed by any person anywhere in the Senate Chamber or in any Senate office.

(g) Food or beverage shall not be permitted in the Senate Chamber, either on the floor or in the galleries; however, after the Senate has remained in session for a period of one hour, food and beverage shall be allowed upon the floor of the Senate.

(h) Reading of newspapers, magazines, periodicals or books shall not be acceptable while the Senate is in session. This rule does not prohibit the use of quotations during debate or for personal privilege.

III. Motions

RULE 18. Motions generally.—Any motion shall be reduced to writing, if requested by the Presiding Officer or a Senator, and read by the Presiding Officer or Reading Clerk before the same is debated. Any motion may be withdrawn by the introducer at any time before decision or amendment. No motion relating to a bill shall be in order which does not identify the bill by its number and short title. Except as otherwise specifically provided in these rules, no second is required.

RULE 19. Motion; order of precedence.—When a question is before the Senate no motion shall be received except those herein specified, which motions shall have precedence as follows:

(1) To adjourn.
(2) To lay on the table.
(3) For the previous question.
(4) To postpone indefinitely.

(5) To postpone to a certain day.
(6) To commit to a standing committee.
(7) To commit to a select committee.
(8) To amend.

RULE 20. Motions requiring a second.—The motions to adjourn, to lay on the table, and to call for the previous question, shall be seconded and decided without debate.

RULE 21. Motions to postpone to certain day and to commit.—The respective motions to postpone to a certain day, or to commit to a standing or select committee, shall preclude debate on the main question.

RULE 22. Motion to substitute.—Subject to Rule 19, a member may offer a motion to substitute to any motion, except the motions for the previous question, to table, or to adjourn. No motion to substitute shall be offered to a motion to substitute.

RULE 23. Motion for previous question.—The previous question shall be as follows: 'Shall the main question be now put?' and until it is decided shall preclude all amendments and debate. If this question is decided in the affirmative, the "main question" shall be on the passage of the bill, resolution, or other matter under consideration; but when amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in their inverse order, without further debate or amendment. No one shall move the previous question except the chairman of the committee submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, or the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the Senate at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the Senate or taken up for consideration.

RULE 24. Motion to reconsider.—(a) When a question has been once put and decided, any Senator who voted in the majority may move to reconsider the vote thereof. No motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after the bill, resolution, or other matter upon which the vote was taken has gone out of the possession of the Senate. No motion for reconsideration shall be in order unless made on the same day or in the next following legislative day on which the vote took place. When the next legislative day has by motion of the Senate been restricted as to matters which may be considered, a motion to reconsider shall be in order on the next succeeding day upon which regular business is conducted. No question shall be reconsidered more than once.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this rule, a motion to reconsider is in order at any time if made by the Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice–Chairman of the Committee on Rules and Operation of the Senate for the sole purpose of correcting grammatical errors in bills in the possession of the Senate.

IV. Voting

RULE 25. Use of electronic voting system.—(a) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system, and the ayes and noes shall be recorded on the Journal:

(1) All questions on which the Constitution of North Carolina requires that the ayes and noes be taken and recorded on the Journal;
(2) All questions on which a call for the ayes and noes under Rule 26(b) has been sustained; and
(3) Second and third readings of bills proposing amendment of the Constitution of North Carolina.

(b) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system, and the resulting totals shall be recorded on the Journal:
(1) Second reading of all public bills, all amendments to public bills offered after second reading, third reading if a public bill was amended after second reading, and all conference reports on public bills.
(2) Any other question upon direction of the Presiding Officer or upon motion of any Senator supported by one–fifth of the Senators present.

(c) When the electronic voting system is used, the Presiding Officer shall fix and announce the time, not to exceed one minute, which shall be allowed for voting on the question before the Senate. The system shall be set to lock automatically and to record the vote when that time has expired. Once the system has locked and recorded a vote, the vote shall be printed by the system.

(d) The voting station at each Senator's desk in the Chamber shall be used only by the Senator to which the station is assigned. Under no circumstances shall any other person vote at a Senator's station. It is a breach of the ethical obligation of a Senator either to request that another vote at the requesting Senator's station, or to vote at another Senator's station. The Presiding Officer shall enforce this rule without exception.

(e) When the electronic voting system is used, the Presiding Officer shall state the question and shall then state substantially the following: 'All in favor vote "aye"; all opposed vote "no";____ seconds will be allowed for voting on this question; the Clerk will record the vote.' After the machine locks and records the vote, the Presiding Officer shall announce the vote and declare the result.

(f) One copy of the machine print–out of the vote record shall be filed in the office of the Principal Clerk, and one copy shall be filed in the Legislative Library where it shall be open to public inspection.

(g) When the Presiding Officer ascertains that the electronic voting system is inoperative before a vote is taken or while a vote is being taken on the electronic system, he shall announce that fact to the Senate and any partial electronic system voting record shall be voided. In such a case, if the Constitution of North Carolina or the Rules of the Senate require a call of the ayes and noes, the Clerk shall call the roll of the Senate, and the ayes and noes shall be taken manually and shall be recorded on the Journal. All other votes shall be taken as prescribed in Senate Rule 26. If, after a vote is taken on the electronic system, it is discovered that a malfunction caused an error in the electronic system print–out, the Presiding Officer shall direct the Reading Clerk and the Principal Clerk to verify and correct the print–out record and so advise the Senate.

(h) For the purpose of identifying motions on which the vote is taken on the electronic system (the identification codes having no relation to the order of precedence of motions), the motions are coded as follows:

1. To lay on the table.
2. For the previous question.
3. To postpone indefinitely.

4. To postpone to a day certain.
5. To refer to a committee.
6. To reconsider.
7. To adopt.
8. To concur.
9. To take from the table.
10. Miscellaneous.

RULE 26. Voice votes; call for ayes and noes.—(a) When the electronic voting system is not used, all votes on which a call of the roll of the Senate is not required shall be taken by voice vote. The question shall be put as follows: 'Those in favor say "aye",' and, after the affirmative vote is expressed, 'Opposed "no"'; after which the Presiding Officer shall announce the result. If a division on any vote is desired, it must be called for immediately before the result of the voting is announced on any question, and upon such call, the Presiding Officer shall require the members to stand and be counted for and against the proposition under consideration.

(b) The ayes and the noes may be called for on any question before the vote is taken. If a Senator desires the ayes and noes recorded on the Journal on a question, he shall address the Presiding Officer and obtain recognition and say, 'Upon that question I call for the ayes and noes.' Whereupon the Presiding Officer shall say, 'Is the call sustained?' If one–fifth of the remaining Senators present then stand, the vote shall be taken on the electronic voting system if it is operative, and the ayes and noes shall be recorded on the Journal. If the electronic voting system is inoperative, the roll of the Senate shall be called and the ayes and noes taken manually and recorded on the Journal. If fewer than one–fifth of the Senators present stand to sustain the call, the Presiding Officer shall announce, 'An insufficient number up' and a vote by electronic voting or by voice, whichever is appropriate under the Rules of the Senate, shall be taken.

RULE 27. Pairs.—(a) If a Senator is paired with another Senator on a question, the Senator shall announce the pair as follows: 'Mr. President, I desire to announce a pair. If Senator _____ were present, he would vote _____; I would vote _____ (the opposite).' The Senator shall send forward at that time a written statement of the pair on a form provided by the Principal Clerk and neither member of the pair shall vote on the question. A pair shall be announced before the vote is taken viva voce, or if the electronic voting system is used, before the machine is unlocked. The Clerk shall record the pair on the Journal when the Constitution or Rules of the Senate require a call of the roll and shall record on the electronic system print–out all pairs announced.

(b) This rule does not apply to committee or subcommittee proceedings.

RULE 28. Dividing question.—If any question contains several distinct propositions, it shall be divided by the Presiding Officer, at the request of any Senator, provided each subdivision, if left to itself, forms a substantive proposition.

RULE 29. Duty to vote; excuses.—(a) Every Senator who is within the Senate Chamber when the question is stated by the Presiding Officer shall vote thereon unless he is excused by the Senate.

(b) A Senator who is a member of a committee shall, upon request, be excused from deliberations and voting on the bill while it is before the committee. The Senator must make the request to the chair of the committee when the bill is first taken up for consideration and before any motion or vote on the bill or any amendment to the bill. The Senator making the request for excuse in Committee must renew his request for excuse on the floor of the Senate as set forth in this rule.

(c) Any Senator may move to be excused at any time, from voting on any matter. The Senator may make a brief statement of the reasons for the motion which question shall be taken without debate on the motion.

(d) The Senator may send forward to the Principal Clerk, on a form provided by the Clerk, a concise statement of the reason for the motion, and the Clerk shall include this statement in the Journal.

(e) The Senator so excused shall not debate the bill or any amendment to the bill, vote on the bill, offer or vote on any amendment to the bill, or offer or vote on any motion concerning the bill at that reading, any subsequent reading, or any subsequent consideration of the bill.

(f) A Senator may move that his excuse from deliberations on a particular bill be withdrawn, which question shall be determined without debate.

(g) A motion to be excused or for the withdrawal of an excuse shall be taken without debate.

RULE 30. Explanation of vote.—Any Senator may explain his vote on any bill by obtaining permission of the Presiding Officer after the final vote is taken. No more than three minutes shall be consumed in such explanation.

V. Committees

RULE 31. Appointment of committees.—(a) The President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall have the exclusive right and authority to appoint the majority party's membership of all committees, regular and select, and to appoint committee chairmen and vice-chairmen and to establish select committees, but this does not exclude the right of the Senate by resolution to establish select committees. The minority leader shall have the exclusive right and authority to appoint all minority party's members of said committees and appoint the ranking minority member. When a bill which is introduced is not in the prescribed form, the Principal Clerk shall cause the bill to be retyped in the prescribed form, and the retyped copy shall become the official copy of the bill for all purposes. The original bill shall then be returned to the introducer of the bill and shall not become a part of the records or documents of the Senate.

No bill for which a fiscal note has been requested may be considered for passage prior to the fiscal note being attached to the bill.

(b) The fiscal note shall be filed and attached to the bill or amendment within two legislative days of the request. If it is impossible to prepare a fiscal note within two legislative days, the Director of Fiscal Research shall, in writing, so advise the Presiding Officer, the Principal Clerk, and the member introducing or proposing the measure and shall indicate the time when the fiscal note will be ready.

(c) The fiscal note shall be prepared by the Fiscal Research Division on a form approved by the Chairman of the Rules and Operation of The Senate Committee as to content and form and signed by the staff member or members preparing it. If no estimate in dollars is possible, the fiscal note shall indicate the reasons that no estimate is provided. The fiscal note shall not comment on the merit but may identify technical problems. 1. State, municipal or other retirement system funded in whole or in part out of public funds; or
2. Program of hospital, medical, disability or related benefits provided for teachers and State employees, funded in whole or in part by State funds, shall have attached to it at the time of its consideration by any committee a brief explanatory statement or note which shall include a reliable estimate of the financial and actuarial effect of the proposed change to that retirement or pension system. The actuarial note shall be attached to the jacket of each proposed bill or resolution which is reported favorably by any committee, shall be separate therefrom, and shall be clearly designated as an actuarial note. Upon its introduction, a bill described in subsection (a)(1) of this rule shall be referred to the Committee on Pensions and Retirement.

The actuarial note shall be attached to the jacket of the measure.

(d) The note shall be factual and shall, if possible, provide a reliable estimate of both the immediate effect and, if determinable, the long range fiscal and actuarial effect of the measure. If, after careful investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given. No comment or opinion shall be included in the actuarial note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared. Technical and mechanical defects in the measure may be noted.

(e) When any committee reports a measure to which an actuarial note is attached at the time of committee consideration, with any amendment of such nature as would substantially affect the cost to or the revenues of any retirement or pension system, the chairman of the committee reporting the measure shall obtain from the Fiscal Research Division an actuarial note of the fiscal and actuarial effect of the proposed amendment. The actuarial note shall be attached to the jacket of the measure. An amendment to any bill or resolution shall not be in order if the amendment affects the costs to or the revenues of a State–administered retirement or pension system, unless the amendment is accompanied by an actuarial note, prepared by the Fiscal Research Division, as to the actuarial effect of the amendment.

(f) The Fiscal Research Division shall make all relevant actuarial notes available to the membership of the Senate.

RULE 42.3. Assessment reports.—Every legislative proposal introduced in the Senate proposing the establishment of an occupational or professional licensing board or a study for the need to establish such a board shall have attached to the jacket of the original bill at the time of its consideration on second or third readings by the Senate or by any committee of the Senate prior to a favorable report, an assessment report from the Legislative Committee on New Licensing Boards, pursuant to Article 18A of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes. The assessment report shall not constitute any part of the expression of legislative intent proposed by the formation of a licensing board.

Upon receipt of the request the Legislative Committee on New Licensing Boards shall prepare and return the assessment report as soon as possible but not later than 60 days, reserving the right to extend this time to 90 days. The fiscal note shall be prepared in consultation with the Sentencing Policy and Advisory Commission and shall identify and estimate, for the first five fiscal years the proposed change would be in effect, all costs of the proposed net increase in incarceration, including capital outlay costs if the legislation would require increased cell space. If, after careful investigation, the Fiscal Research Division determines that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given. No comment or opinion shall be included in the fiscal note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared. However, technical and mechanical defects may be noted.

(b) The sponsor of each bill or resolution to which this subsection applies shall present a copy of the bill or resolution with the request for a fiscal note to the Fiscal Research Division. Upon receipt of the request and the copy of the bill or resolution, the Fiscal Research Division shall prepare the fiscal note as promptly as possible. The Fiscal Research Division shall prepare the fiscal note and transmit it to the sponsor within two weeks after the request is made, unless the sponsor agrees to an extension of time.

(c) This fiscal note shall be attached to the original of each proposed bill or resolution that is reported favorably by any committee, but shall be separate from the bill or resolution and shall be clearly designated as a fiscal note. A fiscal note attached to a bill or resolution pursuant to this subsection is not a part of the bill or resolution and is not an expression of legislative intent proposed by the bill or resolution.

(d) If a committee reports favorably a proposed bill or resolution with an amendment that proposes a change in the law that could cause a net increase in the length of time for which persons are incarcerated or the number of persons incarcerated, whether by increasing penalties for violating existing laws, by criminalizing behavior, or by any other means, the chair of the committee shall obtain from the Fiscal Research Division and attach to the amended bill or resolution a fiscal note as provided in this section.

RULE 51. Special orders.—Any bill or other matter in consideration before the Senate may be made a special order for a subsequent day or hour by a vote of the majority of the Senators voting, and if action on the bill is not completed on that day, it shall be returned to its place on the calendar, unless it is made a special order for another day; and when a special order is under consideration it shall take precedence over any special order or subsequent order for the day, but such subsequent order may be taken up immediately after the previous special order has been disposed of.

RULE 52. Procedure when necessary number of Senators not present.—If, on taking the question on a bill, it appears that a constitutional quorum is not present, or if the bill requires a vote of a certain proportion of all the Senators to pass it, and it appears that such number is not present, the bill shall be again read and the question taken thereon; if the bill fails a second time for the want of the necessary number being present and voting, the bill shall not be finally lost, but shall be returned to the calendar in its proper order.

RULE 53. Effect of defeated bill.—(a) After a bill has been tabled, or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. (f) No committee substitute adopted by the House to a bill originating in the Senate may be amended by the Senate.

ELECTION OF OFFICER ESTABLISHED BY RULES

Pursuant to Rule 65, the President declares the floor open to receive nominations for Deputy President Pro Tempore and recognizes Senator Parnell of Robeson, who offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President, President Pro Tempore Basnight, Members of this North Carolina Senate, and Members of the Judiciary who are still here, and friends and families who are still here, I'm honored to have been asked to bring to you the nomination for the next Deputy President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, the most distinguished Senator from Columbus County, Senator R. C. Soles. Senator Soles was born and grew up in the small town of Tabor City in Columbus County. He attended the public schools there, and upon graduation from high school, attended and graduated from Wake Forest University. He attended Law School at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and upon receipt of his law degree, returned to his home town of Tabor City and established a very successful law practice.

"R. C. Soles has been elected to fourteen consecutive terms in the North Carolina General Assembly—four terms in the House of Representatives and ten terms as a Member of this Body. R. C. was elected to the House of Representatives in 1968 and was the youngest member of that Body at that time, and after serving four terms in the House, he was elected in 1976 to the North Carolina Senate. He has served with distinction in this Body, and during his tenure, he has served as chairman of some of its most important committees.

"In 1993, the Senate elected R. C. to serve as Deputy President Pro Tempore, succeeding one of North Carolina's great legislative leaders, the Honorable Kenneth Royall. R. C. Soles has proven to the members of this Body that he is eminently qualified for the office of Deputy President Pro Tempore of this Senate. He is a person of high intellect, great integrity, and strong loyalties, all of which are qualities so important for a position of trust. He will be a strong right arm of our President Pro Tempore. Senator Soles has done his job well, many times his duties being simply to serve as advisor to our great leader, Marc Basnight, on most occasions, on a one–on–one basis, without public recognition. He has done that on every occasion that he has been called upon.

"Mr. President, Members of this Senate, I know of no one that is more qualified or is held in higher regard in this Body than is R. C. Soles. And Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is my very great honor and personal privilege to nominate the Honorable R. C. Soles for the position of Deputy President Pro Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, and I ask your support for his election to this most important position. Thank you, Mr. President."

The Chair recognizes Senator Perdue who offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it's my privilege this afternoon to rise to second the nomination of R. C. Soles as Deputy Pro Tem of the North Carolina Senate. R. C. is a very special man. He's quiet and thoughtful, I just found out that you are pretty mean in your committee, R. C. I remember you did that to me once. You're a leader who we often don't see out front receiving the accolades and the honors and the tributes. You're the kind of guy who gets things done by setting a goal and being very thoughtful and methodical, putting your plan into place and then winning time after time. A very, very successful attorney, a community leader that everybody all over North Carolina knows, an outstanding and very successful business man. You are certainly a man that I have come to admire and to respect during my two terms in the Senate. But for all of us here in the Senate this afternoon, the reason that I believe we should have you as our Deputy Pro Tem is a simple one. You've got what I like to tell my two boys is really important in life. You've got that thing we know as character. You can take R. C. Soles' word to the bank. He'll walk the very last mile for you if you ask him to, and he'll live and die for North Carolina. I'm proud to second your nomination.

The Chair recognizes Senator Ballance who offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President, Senator R. C. Soles is well known by most of us in this Body. He is highly respected and I am not going to go back over the various accolades that have already been pointed out. I would simply call a few adjectives, words. He's a gentleman, and in 1995 that's a pretty big word to use. He's a scholar, a man of keen mind and deep intellect. Beyond that, R. C. Soles has what's lacking in a lot of people. He has compassion. He's a dedicated Democrat. And the last two words I'll use in describing this gentleman, one is the word, fairness; he believes deeply in that. And the other is the word, competent. I know a lot of lawyers in this great State. Senator Basnight, if I ever got in trouble again, I'd want to have R. C. Soles on my team. He's a good lawyer. He will, pursuant to Rule 65, he will be an outstanding, again, Deputy President Pro Tempore of this Senate Body, and I would urge and encourage your support of Senator Soles.

"And if I'm in order, Mr. President, I'd like to move at this time that the nominations be closed and that Senator Soles be elected by acclamation."

The Chair recognizes Senator Cochrane who offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President, I'd like to second that motion. As a matter of fact, an intention was on our part to move that he be accepted unanimously by this Body. Thank you."

The Chair declares Senator R. C. Soles, Jr. elected Deputy President Pro Tempore and appoints Senator Parnell of Robeson and Senator Perdue of Craven to escort the Deputy President Pro Tempore–elect to the Well of the Senate. Senator Parnell presents Senator Soles to the President. The Honorable D. Jack Hook, Jr., Senior Resident Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District of the Superior Court Division of the General Court of Justice of North Carolina administers the prescribed oath of office.

The President recognizes Senator Soles who offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, very much. Mr. President, Mr. President Pro Tempore, Members of the Judiciary, Senators, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen. First, I want to express my most sincere appreciation to the ladies and gentlemen of the Senate who have given me this high honor to serve another term as the Deputy President Pro Tempore of the Senate. I want to thank Senator Parnell for nominating me, and Senators Ballance and Perdue for their kind remarks as they seconded the nomination. To Senators Parnell, Speed, Jordan and Simpson, my deep appreciation for honoring me by serving as my escort.

"I want to thank Judge Hooks, the Resident Superior Court Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District, where I happened to practice law, for administering my oath of office. You know, as we go about our duties here in the capital city, we often come in contact with members of the judiciary, but it's always the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. Rarely do we see members of the trial branch; that is, the Superior Court or the District Court. By having both the appellate and the trial benches represented here today, we recognize the importance and the dedicated work which is performed by all of our judges and court personnel throughout North Carolina.

"To my legislative assistant, Ms. Janet Puryear, I wish to acknowledge and thank her twenty years of loyal service and dedicated friendship. You know times have changed. We've said that many times today, but as I stand here and look into the faces of the Members of the Senate, I see North Carolinians who have been selected by those who know them best to speak for them here in the North Carolina Senate. We have all the same goal, and that is to work together for what is in the best interest of North Carolina and all of her people. It is true that we may seek those goals along different roadways, or by different methods. But ultimately our joint goal is, and should be, what is in the best interest and what is for the well-being of our great State.

"Recently Senator Rand and I had an opportunity to attend the dedication ceremonies at Methodist College in Cumberland County for the Lura Tally Institute of Leadership Development which was established there. That was an exciting time, and it was exciting to hear about a four-year college program that is going to place emphasis on developing new leaders. Among the distinguished Senators, not as Senators, but among the distinguished leaders and citizens who were there and spoke at that dedication ceremony, was Mr. Roy Parker, who is the Editor Emeritus of the Federal Times, and he made a point which I feel is worthy of repeating here as we begin our duties of this, the first legislative day of this new Session. Mr. Parker said that we, as leaders, should grow rather than swell. As he said that, he looked at Senator Rand and me. I thought he was looking at Senator Rand, but he may have been looking at me, also. (Laughter) I think his message is one we should all seriously consider and remember as we work here in the General Assembly. Remember that we are recognized as leaders and that we should always strive to grow and to do what is right at all costs and to avoid swelling.

"I thank you again for the honor you have given me. I look forward to working with you. My office is always open. Please do not hesitate to call on me. Thank you very much."

ELECTION OF STATUTORY OFFICERS

Pursuant to G.S. 120.37, the President declares the floor open to receive nominations for the Office of Principal Clerk.

The President recognizes Senator Kerr of Wayne, who offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, Mr. President, Fellow Members of the Senate. It's a distinct honor for me to nominate for the Office of Principal Clerk, probably one of the more important offices that we've elected here, our friend, Sylvia Morris Fink. Ms. Fink is a native of Charlotte, a graduate of Pfeiffer College. She served and held this Office in a fair manner for almost twenty years. She served under five Lieutenant Governors and five Pro Tems of this Body. She is a leader in her church, in her community, in her organization. She also knows the rules. She has a very, very excellent staff, and I commend this lady to you to serve again as Principal Clerk, Sylvia Fink."

The President recognizes Senator Lucas of Durham who seconds the nomination of Sylvia Morris Fink for Office of Principal Clerk and offers the following remarks:

"I rise to second the nomination of Ms. Sylvia Fink as Principal Clerk, and to make a motion."

"Someone asked what makes a person excellent in his or her job. Ms. Fink is not just good, she's not just average, but she's excellent. Many Americans say that they like to see the following C's in a person—character, compassion, caring, courage, and competence. Over the years, our Senate Chamber has been served by proven outstanding competence, a high level of knowledge and accuracy. So, Mr. President, at this time, if I'm in order, I move that the nominations be closed and that Ms. Sylvia Fink be elected by acclamation as our Principal Clerk."

The motion offered by Senator Lucas that the nominations be closed and that Sylvia Morris Fink be elected Principal Clerk of the 1995 Senate by acclamation prevails.

The President declares Sylvia Morris Fink duly elected and appoints Senator Conder of Richmond and Senator Cochrane of Davie to escort the Principal Clerk–elect of the 1995 Senate to the dais. Senator Conder of Richmond addresses the Chair and presents the Principal Clerk–elect, Sylvia Morris Fink. The Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor of the State of North Carolina administers the prescribed oath of office and directs the Principal Clerk to assume her seat.

The President declares the floor open to receive nominations for the Office of Reading Clerk.

The President recognizes Senator Sherron of Wake, who offers the following remarks:

"Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, I'm going to make this brief. It's late, plus I've got a hoarseness in my throat. LeRoy Clark is the Reading Clerk and has been for some twenty–four years here. LeRoy is one of my constituents. He resides down in Wendell. LeRoy, most of his life has been involved in the tobacco business. As I was saying, LeRoy has spent most of his life in the tobacco business, and one thing about that business that he experienced was being a tobacco auctioneer. And by having the ability to speak fast and distinctly certainly qualifies LeRoy for being our Reading Clerk. In fact, I would suspect that LeRoy would rate probably one of the best in the United States. I could say a lot about LeRoy, but I want you all to know that LeRoy is a great Democrat, he's a great friend of mine, and I'm sure that all of you will be well satisfied with his duties as Reading Clerk. Thank you."

The Chair recognizes Senator Cooper of Nash who seconds the nomination and offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, Mr. President. It is important that we elect a Reading Clerk with a silver tongue, sense of humor, a strong, clear voice, a complete knowledge of procedure, a deep pride in tobacco, and a little chin of hair doesn't hurt either. LeRoy Clark possesses all of these traits and more. As the saying goes, what is tried and true should be kept in place. LeRoy Clark has a long list of accomplishments in the areas of business, civic work, and family. He has served this Body and the State of North Carolina well for many years. We should keep him. Therefore, I proudly second the nomination of LeRoy Clark, Jr. to the Office of Reading Clerk, and I move that the nominations be closed and that he be elected by acclamation."

The motion offered by Senator Cooper of Nash that the nominations be closed and that LeRoy Clark, Jr. be elected Reading Clerk by acclamation prevails.

The President declares LeRoy Clark, Jr., unanimously elected, and appoints Senator Speed of Franklin and Senator Simpson of Burke to escort the Reading Clerk–elect of the 1995 Senate to the Well of the Senate. Senator Speed of Franklin addresses the Chair and presents the Reading Clerk–elect, LeRoy Clark, Jr. The Honorable Willis P. Whichard, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, administers the prescribed oath of office, and the President directs the Reading Clerk to assume his seat.

The President declares the floor open to receive nominations for the office of Sergeant–at–Arms.

The President recognizes Senator Edwards of Cumberland who offers the following remarks:

"Members of the Senate, President Pro Tem, and the Judiciary. I apologize, first of all, for getting up too early. I suppose this time of day it's past my mealtime and I was trying to get out. But I am happy to place in nomination a man who has served us well for the past two years as Sergeant–at–Arms. He came to us well prepared at that time, and has done a very good job for us, having served with the U. S. Department of Justice in the area of criminal investigator, in the U. S. Marshal Service as an inspector, as Deputy U. S. Marshal, and retired after twenty–five years of service. He is well qualified for the position, having been educated at one of our State universities, North Carolina State A&T, served in the military, and is a strong family man. And I'm happy to place his name in nomination."

The President recognizes Senator Plyler of Union who seconds the nomination and offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President, I'd like to second the nomination of Cecil Goins. Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I've known Cecil for a good long while before he was Sergeant–at–Arms here on this floor and in this Building two years ago. Cecil Goins is a person that you can feel comfortable around because he will certainly see that he executes the duties of his Office in the way that will make all of us here safe. Cecil has been in various areas of protection, as Senator Edwards has mentioned, over the many years, and of course he can tell you some real experiences in some of the things that he's had to do with those duties. But, Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, it is an honor for me to second the nomination of Sergeant–at–Arms Cecil Goins, and I would like to move that the nominations be closed and that Mr. Goins be elected by acclamation."

The motion offered by Senator Plyler that the nominations be closed and Cecil Goins be elected Sergeant–at–Arms by acclamation prevails.

The President declares Cecil Goins unanimously elected and appoints Senator Rand of Cumberland and Senator Hobbs of Moore to escort the Sergeant–at–Arms–elect to the Well of the Senate. Senator Rand of Cumberland addresses the Chair and presents the Sergeant–at–Arms–elect, Cecil Goins. The Honorable Burley B. Mitchell, Jr., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, administers the prescribed oath of office. The President directs the Sergeant–at–Arms to assume his seat.

The Chair recognizes Senator Conder of Richmond, Senate Majority Leader, who offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, Mr. President, and ladies and gentlemen. Let me say that this has been a long day. For some of you it may have been a trying day. But let me say to you right now, that this is going to be a great Session. I think you probably have seen the worst of anything you might expect because I promise you that anything that needs to be done, we'll work with you to help you do it. I'm satisfied that the remarks I made earlier about the track record of Senator Basnight will probably be as strong, if not stronger, tomorrow. I feel very good about what's going on and what's happening. I hope this is going to be a hard–working Session, but I hope it's also going to be a fun Session. I think we're going to have a good time and we're going to work hard, but you're going to be in for a ride and see some things happening in this General Assembly, this Senate, that's never happened before in the State of North Carolina. And that's what I meant earlier by there'll be a lot of new firsts happening in the State of North Carolina.

"One in particular, Senator Basnight assigned Senator Cochrane and myself the responsibility of assigning seats. If you notice, for the first time ever, there are four Republicans sitting here in the middle aisle. If there'd not been a spirit of cooperation, they could have been somewhere else. Senator Cochrane and I worked very hard to work this out. Had a chain of events not happened, there'd have been another one sitting right here where Senator Edwards is right now, Seat Number 20. So, you see what we've done, and I was real pleased when we concluded our work and Betsy looked at me and she says, 'Richard, I didn't get my first choice, but I got my second choice.' So I promise you folks that it's going to be a great Session and we're going to work well with you, and I wish you well. And, seriously, if I can help any of you at any time, if you've got any problems, we're not here to be in an adversarial role, we want to do something that's good for the State of North Carolina, and together, we'll do it.

"And I will just close in saying that all's well that ends well, and the proof is in the pudding."

The Chair recognizes Senator Ballance of Warren, Senate Majority Whip, who offers the following remarks:

"Mr. President, thank you so kindly. Senator Basnight, to all of our Senators, those who are returning and those who are new, I look forward to working with you. Thank you very much.

The Chair recognizes Senator Cochrane of Davie, Senate Minority Leader, who offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, Mr. President. This has been a baptism by fire for me, but I want to tell you this lady is going to weather it just fine. I am proud of my delegation and the job they have done today. Now, all of that aside. There is something much more important, and that is to be a part of this Body, this Senate Body. And we are, and we intend to work together harmoniously when we are allowed to, and cooperatively when we are allowed to. And we certainly will be there doing for our people, for all the people of this State, to the very best of our ability, to which we were elected. Thank you."

The Chair recognizes Senator Allran of Catawba, Senate Minority Whip, who offers the following remarks:

"Thank you, Mr. President, and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. I would just like to say that it certainly is a privilege and an honor for me to serve as the Minority Whip. This is the finest group of Republican freshmen I have ever served with, and this is my eighth term. They have honored me with letting me serve them in this capacity, and as for all the other Members of the Senate, I look out and see faces that I know and appreciate very much; and I certainly look forward to working with all of you in every way possible. Thank you."

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Gracious and Loving God, it happens every year at the opening Session of the General Assembly. Yesterday was no exception.

"With the brush stroke of a great master, a powerful portrait was painted before our very eyes in this Chamber. The subjects on the canvas were the Senators surrounded by those who love and encourage them.

"Parents looking over the shoulder of their child, the Senator; spouses and friends sharing in their rightful place of partnership alongside the Senators; children and grandchildren sitting on the lap of a parent or grandparent who serves this Body, some being held, others being held down.

"I simply pray that you recall this wonderful image every day to the men and women who serve here. Along with Your Abiding Presence, that mental portrait shall be a great source of strength for the journey that is ahead. Amen."

On motion of Senator Basnight, seconded by Senator Cochrane, the Senate adjourns at 2:15 P.M. to meet Monday, January 30, at 7:00 P.M.

THIRD DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
Monday, January 30, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Dear Lord, no doubt during this first full week of activities, the Senators and staff will be pulled in a hundred different directions by well–intentioned people, all advocates of complex issues for which they would like laws to be written.

"Though the members of this Body are committed, gifted, and versatile, remind them early on for the sake of their health and well–being that it will be impossible to be everywhere at once and all things to all people.

"A wise person has said,

> What another would have done as well as you, do not do it. What another would have said as well as you, do not say it; written as well, do not write it. Be faithful to that which exists nowhere but in yourself through God's Grace, and there make yourself indispensable.

"Amen."

Senator Basnight, President Pro Tempore, announces the Journal of Thursday, January 26, has been examined and is found to be correct. On his motion, the Senate dispenses with the reading of the Journal and it stands approved as written.

The President recognizes Senator Basnight whose remarks are spread upon the Journal with unanimous consent, as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. President. In speaking to the members of this Body, the charge you certainly understand without any great elaboration. The responsibility is one that you understand, as well, and you also fully understand that in your deliberations those answers that you find that are in the best interest of the people of this State are certainly the reason that you will cast your vote in favor of a better government for all of us in those opportunities that afford itself by serving on these committees.

"I ask that you be prompt and courteous to your Chairmen to allow that person to begin the meeting on time in a fashion as you would like to be treated yourself as a Chairman that you could once be as well. I think it is also equally important that we give the courtesies to the speaker that will be before the committee from time to time and that we do as the Lieutenant Governor has suggested to us, as well, to give them your open attention and certainly what they deserve, an opportunity to be heard.

"I ask that you move with speed, but with deliberation in making the decisions on what you will be confronted with. Tomorrow we have some meetings that will be announced shortly prior to adjournment tonight. Then I would ask that all the Chairmen that have the bills in their box at this time to start scheduling those meetings this week as quickly as you can. We all fully understand that we will be moving from room to room as we settle into our offices. We also understand that the Governor has not presented his budget at this time and won't for some time. And the appropriations process will be a bit slower in picking up some momentum, but they will be meeting. I am certain that the Chairs will be discussing opportunities of mutual interest with the House members so that we can work jointly with our counterparts in a productive way.

"I welcome this opportunity to be a part of your process, to show successes in this Body and the House as well on behalf of the people of this great State of ours. Congratulations to the Chairmen, the Vice Chairs, the Ranking Minority Members as well as all members. If you see changes that you'd like to be a part of for the minority party, would you please contact Senator Cochrane and for the majority party if you would contact Norma Ware. We would certainly encourage you to contact that member that you would like to make a change with in any of the committee assignments. Wish you Godspeed in your efforts. Thank you very much."

Many of you remember Reverend Clyde Plexico, Clark's dad, and he did our chaplain prayers for a week, back when Clark was a freshman. Clyde and his deceased father were both Presbyterian ministers; so, Clark, we offer you our condolences here in the Senate, and we congratulate you on the fine eulogy that you delivered at the funeral at High Point last Saturday. I would simply say, may his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed to the mercy of God rest in peace."

TWELFTH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
Tuesday, February 14, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Quoting an excerpt from a sermon by Dr. R. Wayne Stacy, at First Baptist Church, Raleigh, delivered January 19, 1995, prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Loving God, it may seem not a little strange to pray about love in this Senate Chamber even though the rest of the world on this day is so wrapped up in its celebration. Maybe that's because in contemporary parlance love for us means almost exclusively a feeling, an emotion, a sentiment—never engaging the mind or the judgment or the will. Love has become a noun.

"But when the greatest Biblical Law ever written commands us to Love You first and then our neighbors as our selves, we realize that love is a way of life—a verb.

"It's not easy, this way called love. It takes courage, a square jaw, a clear mind, a thick skin and a short memory. This love takes patience and kindness and hope and endurance and commitment and faith, so that the good of the other is regarded as indistinguishable from one's own.

"That is precisely the kind of love that must be exercised every day in the place. Help each of us to live out this way of love, this way of life which you have taught by example. Amen."

With unanimous consent, the President grants a leave of absence for today to Senator Smith due to hospitalization for medical tests, and to Senator Dannelly to attend funeral of a family member.

Sec. 4. This resolution is effective upon ratification.

By Senator Carpenter:

"Thank you, Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. It can be said with certainty that Senator John Codington died with his boots on. This is to coin an old American axiom. When John and his secretary, Mrs. Clark, left our office over in the LOB at a little before 3:00 P.M. exactly a year ago today, we had no idea that ten minutes later he would collapse behind his desk. Jim Watts in Research and Senator Austin Allran began CPR immediately. While the others of us tried to get objects out of the way and to help Austin and Jim in any way we could, a few minutes later Dr. Jim Forrester, who literally ran from this building over to the building where Dr. Codington was stricken, and that was to dive into a futile but nonetheless, tremendous, effort to revive our fallen comrade. While my wife, Helen, was getting Betsy to the scene from their apartment, the EMS arrived and with all their equipment tried, to no avail, to try to revive our fallen Senator. We all prayed that this would culminate in such a way that he would be back on his feet.

"I tell you this to emphasize what a loving tribute Betsy paid John when Helen asked her to take her to John's side in the hospital. The ambulance had left minutes before Helen and Betsy arrived back at the LOB. Dr. Jim Forrester had just eloquently expressed or outlined very professionally to Betsy the events leading up to the apparent demise, even though some small thread of hope remained. 'No,' was Betsy's reply to Helen, reasoning that that very morning he had left her after a very cheerful breakfast at the apartment with a big smile on his face and a kiss for her on his lips as he left for the General Assembly. She even waved to him from the balcony as he got in the car. She wanted to remember him that way; a twinkle in his eyes, a grin on his face. He truly left us with his boots on, and that's for sure.

"Reflecting on John's life and his short tenure with us here in the Senate, I was reminded of an obituary in the Asheville Gazette, it was known as JS and RL in those days, this was in 1875, and it was of my great–great–grandmother, Nancy Wood Dean. Obituaries were long and flowery a hundred and twenty years ago, and one line of that epistle reaches out with these words, 'She has gone to pluck the ambrosial fruits from the Tree of Life and to bask in the Ocean of God's Love eternally,' from the obituary. And as we think of the countless acts of charity, medical attention, civic, and church kindnesses, we know these words apply to this great doctor, this great Senator, this great dad, this great husband, this great sailor. Yes, this great man, Betsy. We were truly blessed to have him in our midst.

"While others will be speaking to this resolution, I will depart from more details of his accomplishments to digress again to what I would visualize John looking down on us today with these words, and they're from an old, old, Irish prayer. These would be on his lips,

> May the road rise up to meet you, may the wind be always at your back; may the rain fall gently on your fields, and may the sun be always in your face. And until we meet again, may God always hold you in the palm of His hands.

"Yes, John will be long remembered by those of us here in Raleigh, those whose life he touched in Wilmington, and, particularly, those he called his loving family. He has gone to pluck the ambrosial fruits from the Tree of Life and to bask in the Ocean of God's Love eternally. We salute you, John Bonnell Codington, and I thank you in advance, ladies and gentlemen, for your support of this resolution."

By Senator Ballantine:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, as most of you know, my first spoken words in this venerable Chamber were to eulogize our friend and my neighbor, Senator John Codington. I spoke about him being a model family man, and a revered civic leader. Today on the first anniversary of his death, I'm so glad that his wife, Betsy, and son, John, Jr., are here with us as we all remember and pay tribute to John. Let us not be sad and dwell on his death, let us celebrate his wonderful life. The resolution that Senator Carpenter and I helped draft capsulizes just some of the accolades of Senator Codington's life. We could go on and on, but it is not the accomplishments, rather it is the person that I will remember. John always greeted people with a pleasant countenance. Lisa, my wife, and I still see his gentle smile. Yes, I succeeded John Codington in the North Carolina Senate, but I did not replace him; no one will. We will miss you, Senator. We're all glad we knew you. Please support the resolution."

By Senator Allran:

"Thank you, Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. We certainly appreciate those very kind remarks from Senator Carpenter and Senator Ballantine. I have a number of tributes and editorials and resolutions that I've seen in various newspapers and read about over the last year, and I just wanted to share a few of them with you. First of all, from the News and Observer.

> State Senator John Codington was a Wilmington surgeon whose voice was not one of the loudest on the Floor of the General Assembly, but Codington, who died Tuesday afternoon after suffering an apparent heart attack in his office, typifies the selfless public service that is often forgotten in the midst of political hoopla. A Republican who retired from medical practice in 1990, Codington was in his first term. Previously he had served nine years on the New Hanover Board of Education, eight of them as its Chairman. Elective office represented only a fraction of Codington's record, however. For many years he traveled annually to Haiti to help provide medical care and took members of his church with him.

"I'd like to switch over from the News and Observer to a tribute which I thought was just great, which was written by his medical partner, Charles A. Wilkinson, MD. It gives you some of his life history and some of the things that he accomplished as a person, but also talks about him personally. As his partner said,

> For fifteen years, John devoted two weeks a year to medical mission work at Legone Hospital in Haiti. He donated equipment, he taught Haitian physicians and cared for patients, and he recruited many doctors to join him there. He always came back excited about the large amount of surgery he had provided to the needy Haitians. In addition to his participation there, he served on the Board of World Missions of the Presbyterian Church as an Elder in First Presbyterian Church of Wilmington for many years.

"John took time from a busy practice to serve his community in other ways, also. He was on the School Board for twelve years, Chairman for eight. His leadership during the troubled years of racial unrest in Wilmington, when he helped guide the schools through very difficult times, was invaluable. John served two terms on the Board of Trustees at UNC–W during the phase of its most graphic growth and development. He was instrumental in beginning the foundation of geriatric independence to benefit the senior citizens of his area. John Codington was a devoted family man. He was happily married to Betsy Carter Codington for forty–two years. They have three children and five grandchildren. Their care and education was his highest priority.

"Well, I didn't know all this history about Dr. Codington till he got here and I read about it, because I was not—I didn't grow up in Wilmington. I grew up on the other side of the State. But I did know this next part from the little bit I was around him and then I really appreciated this personal touch in these tributes. His partner goes on to say,

> John realized that all work and no play was not his file. He loved his garden, where he grew gorgeous azaleas and camellias which gave pleasure to many on several Azalea Festival tours. He loved to fish, he loved to sail, and he loved the beach. Especially when his children or grandchildren were along. He was even known to go on an occasional dove hunt or snow ski trip. After retiring from surgery, John Codington started a new career, in politics. He was elected to the State Senate. In Raleigh, he served this district well and he enjoyed every minute of it. He was looking forward to running for a second term. On March 1, 1994, after a session on the Senate floor, he returned to his office, collapsed at his desk, and was unresponsive to all attempts at resuscitation. He was sixty–eight. John was known for all of his good works, but the most memorable thing about him was his warm, vibrant personality. He had an enthusiasm for life that was unsurpassed. It was so contagious that you could not be with him long without sharing his enthusiasm for the occasion. His friendly smile and hearty greetings made friends adore him and disarmed his opponents. His patients loved him. His associates and peers admired and respected him. For me, he was not only a partner, but a good friend. He will truly be missed. (Charles A. Wilkinson, MD.)

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I commend to you the resolution before you on behalf of our colleague, John B. Codington."

By Senator Perdue:

"Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, and Betsy and John, I had the opportunity to serve in the district with John Codington, and as you'll recall, after redistricting I lost the beaches of Carteret County and he happened to pick them up, even though he lived in Wilmington in New Hanover County. And there was many a cold, wintry night after he was elected that he made that two–and–a–half–hour drive to Carteret County to hear what the folks there had to say. Because he cared about all of our people, and they were his people and grew to love him in a special, special way. During some of those meetings and up here, especially, we had the opportunity to get to know each other. We chatted, as parents do, about our children and our family. We talked about older folks, because his love for geriatric medicine was something that was very special to him. We talked about education at great length, and he was a tremendous contributing member of that committee. And, yes, even though I was a Democrat and he was a Republican, we had some long, good conversations about politics. Sometimes we did differ a bit, maybe on to 'how to' do something, but never on to 'what for.' Because the 'what for' in John's mind was always 'whatever is good for North Carolina and for the people of this State.'

"As I sat with him time after time in the snack bar, and I happened to be there on the day he died, we ate hot dogs and we laughed about some of the things that actually went on here. And during the conversation at that lunch, John talked about this being the greatest opportunity of his life. Although he had done all these other wonderful special things for his patients and his community and his church, he knew and felt like that he was really making a difference in a different way for North Carolina. He was a quiet man, a leader in a very special and unique way for us all. I never, ever believed that John wanted accolades. He wasn't that kind of person. What he wanted was accomplishment for the good of this State. North Carolina has lost a very true and special leader, a good friend to us all, and I join in those that presented this resolution and just know that he's up there today watching us and laughing a bit that we're still here in Raleigh doing the people's work."

By Senator Cochrane:

"I had the good fortune of getting to know John Codington before he came to Raleigh because we had a mutual interest in education. And in the early '90s I chaired a Commission on Education for Republicans and because of John's work on the School Board there, had a few conversations with him, and as a result of that, on some other occasions had conversations with him about education. I also had the good fortune to sit behind Senator Block, who let me know even more about Senator Codington before he came up here because it was already anticipated that Senator Codington was going to come. And I learned some more about the personal man that made me admire him even more.

"There are two things that have not been mentioned that I would like to point out again. I think they've been referred to, and that was his good sense of humor. I think it also is a surprise sometimes to people when you saw this quiet, retiring man, to know what a man of steel he was when there was a conviction that he held, and he was involved in discussion or debate. I always admired that about him and I always waited for the quiet man in the caucus to make the comments that we would all respond to. I think I also had a special affinity to John, we frequently talked, because his wife and I share the same name, and we frequently joked about that.

"There are certain people that touch you in life in certain ways that you're not necessarily aware of until they're gone, and I think that may have happened in this Senate with John. I think we all knew him and liked him and admired him for the contribution that was his to this Body came about, I think, more in some of the minds of people after those comments were not here to be heard. The thing that I'll recall in one of our last conversations—I had made the comment, and I don't think I've ever in my life had such an opportunity at public service as this elected position affords me, and John said, 'I like that, could not have said that better, and that's exactly the way I feel.' And that's always the way I'll remember him, Betsy. Thank you."

By Senator Jordan:

"I'm giving respects to the family of Senator Codington. It was my privilege to have served with him also representing New Hanover County, Pender County, and Onslow County. As I listen to all the comments, I agree with everything that has been said. I do remember him being, certainly Senator Conder, as a real gentleman. He was such a gentleman that he gently killed several of my bills that I brought to bring district election in New Hanover County and Pender County.

"And I reflect back on having grown up in New Hanover County and knowing him from a different perspective as a member of the Board of Education. He was just some type of outstanding, fine, distinguished gentleman there. I reflect back to thinking about the history of Wilmington, and I've told many of you about the history of Wilmington. A terrible history—the 1898 Revolt of Wilmington, when many African-Americans were massacred on through to the history of the Wilmington Ten, and definitely Senator Codington came really into my life. He was a member of that Board of Education when some of you across the State, it was not popular to help or work with African-Americans to help solve some of the problems, Senator Codington was one of the ones who was a trailblazer to bring together New Hanover County and the City of Wilmington to cool some of the high-spirited folks who were in New Hanover County who believed in burning and rioting, and those who didn't want integration anyway. And those are the areas that I remember him. He will certainly be missed, and my prayers are with the family. Thank you."

By Senator Odom:

"Members of the Senate, I'll be very brief. I only knew John Codington a short period of time, but I think all of us would agree that our lives were enriched by this very gentle person, in addition to being a gentleman, Senator Jordan. And I don't think you can say too much more about a person than when his or her peers refer to you as a gentle person.

"His life, and especially his death here a year ago, teaches something and that is we should always, every day, celebrate the temporary, to celebrate the small things of life. As Senator Perdue said, she had the great pleasure of sharing his last meal. So did Senator Hoyle and myself, and the four of us sat in the snack bar in the basement of the LOB and we did share a plate of hot dogs. And we did talk about education, we talked about this Body. But it was a great pleasure to just sit and talk and break bread with this man. The Senate is a very special group of people. I've said that before, dealing with personal matters. There's a great camaraderie here that cuts across the lines of politics, and when our lives can be enriched by someone like John Codington, we have been blessed. And I certainly support this resolution."

By Senator Simpson:

"Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I don't think most of us knew John Codington very long, we knew him from what time he served here. However, we did know his reputation. We knew what the people said and thought about him in the area that he lived. But reputation is what other people say about you. I had several very long conversations with John Codington and I think that I got to know what his character was. And character is what you say, what you think, and more particularly, what you do. And I think that John Codington, from what time I knew him, was a man of high character, honesty, and dedication. If I had to characterize him or give him a name, I think I would just call him the 'silent man,' because John wasn't a big talker. But when he talked, he had something to say. And I think if I really wanted to sum him up, I would say that he lived by the old adage that there's no limit to what a man can do and how far he can go and what he can accomplish if he don't care who else gets the credit for it. I urge your support of the resolution."

By Senator Forrester:

"Fellow Senators, I wish to express my thanks to Senator Basnight for the beautiful flowers I think on the podium in honor of Senator Codington. I think they're camellias.

"We all pause at this time to reflect and give thanks and celebrate the remarkable life of John Codington, a gentleman, a medical colleague, and a friend who helped change our State for the better. Some have already eloquently spoken on this fine gentlemen that we honor here today. Most in our Chamber didn't know John Codington. He sat on the back row over next to Senator Shaw. Every life is a lesson, and John's life was a lesson. And he taught us well. I'm sorry he was not given more time to serve the citizens of the State of North Carolina in the North Carolina Senate. But I think we're all grateful for the years that he shared his life-saving skills with his patients throughout the State.

"I knew him as a man of modest manner with a shy smile that really came from deep within, a dry sense of humor, as has been mentioned, a man of compassion and love for his fellow man, a dedicated physician and surgeon, a model husband, father and grandfather, a strong church worker and a strong supporter of foreign medical missions. Truly, he touched the lives of thousands in the State of North Carolina. John was a giver, not a taker. He was a mover, not a shaker. They just don't make doctors like John Codington anymore. We in North Carolina thank God for the wonderful life of John Codington and for the lives he touched. His influence will ripple these lives for years to come. There's a saying that well applies to Dr. Codington that I think that is appropriate for this time. 'You make a living at what you get, but you make a life by what you give.' John was a giver. His life will live on as long as he's remembered, and he will be remembered. We will all miss John Codington. John B. Codington, MD. Well done, thy good and faithful servant."

By Senator Albertson:

"A lot of good, truthful sayings have been said about this good, wonderful man. And he was a good, wonderful person. I think the thing that John and I had in common that meant so much to both of us was the fact that we both were elders in the Presbyterian Church. We talked about that quite a bit. And I have come to believe in my lifetime that one of the greatest gifts that a person can ever receive is to know that you're truly loved by another individual. John Codington loved me, and I loved him. You want to know how I know that's true? He told me so, and I told him. My life is better, I'm convinced, from having known this good, wonderful person. And I sincerely thank God for his life."

By Senator Blackmon:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. John Codington was my seatmate. And as all freshmen do when they come here, they have a few problems with the red and the green buttons. I can remember very vividly going through that red and green button position with him, trying to keep him from making a mistake. I only wish that he were here now to train this young man on my right, and I think John could do it in a wonderful way.

"To say a few things quickly about John Codington, I don't know whether to call him Dr. John Codington or Senator Dr. John Codington. He was a great man. People talk about how wonderful he is and how easy-going he is—all of those things are true. Betsy mentioned one thing, he's like stainless steel. John Codington was as tough as anybody I have ever met. But with that toughness was an ability to understand and work with people, love people, and to realize that people is what makes this world go around. He was particularly fond of you, Marc. He said so on a number of occasions. I take this opportunity to say hello to Betsy and to his son, John, wish them well, and to ask that each one of you say a little prayer for Dr. John Codington, and I ask that you support this resolution."

By Senator Shaw:

"Thank you, Mr. President. I had a special relationship with John Codington, and like you said, Jerry, this man was quiet, but he was tough as nails. I mean, once he makes up his mind, you forget about trying to change it. He was solid, he was in concrete. And what drew me so close to John, that I remember one afternoon that Dr. Forrester came up with, I forget now whether it was a bill or whether it was an amendment, to add a PSA test to the state employees and school teachers Blue Cross Plan. And I was just half listening, probably, and so John leaned over and he says, 'Bob, be sure and support this bill.' I says, 'OK.' And after I voted for it, I said 'What is it?' as some of us do sometime, and he said 'It's something that saved my life two or three years ago.' And he explained to me that it was a test for prostate specific antigen which is a simple blood test, and to those of you who've never had it, please go do it if you're past forty. And he said he could detect, in most cases, prostate cancer. And I said, 'What is the norm?' and he said 'Zero to four.' He said his had been in the mid–60s. He tested with prostate cancer, he had it removed, and he was doing fine. He made me promise to go and have the test. And a couple of months later he mentioned it to me again and I called, made an appointment, and had it done. I tested high, also. I also had the operation. It had not spread, I'm doing great, I'm clean, but probably I may be the only one in here to say that I owe John Codington, probably, my life, because I probably would—I don't particularly enjoy going to doctors—I probably would not have been to this day for that test, I might never have gone for it, and I have six grandsons I want to see grow up. So, Betsy, as I told you over the phone that day, I may owe John my life, and I thank him for that. Thank you."

By Senator Plexico:

"Thank you. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I had the pleasure of being Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee that Senator Codington served on. The irony was that Senator Codington was more my father's age, and I was the Chairman and he was the freshman. But that didn't teach—that did not stop Senator Codington from being in a position to teach me numerous times. We would often serve—Senator Plyler, you remember we would have some late night meetings until two o'clock in the morning, Senator Codington was right there with that smile on his face. He was, as Senator Odom has said, a true gentleman. We came from opposite ends of the State, but I think he enjoyed that part of his State and the waters around there in the same way that I enjoy the mountains in my area. And, Senator Albertson, Senator Codington and I also talked about that similarity of being Presbyterian elders, and you're right, it's something that holds folks together just like Senator Odom mentioned what holds us together here as members of the Senate. But I also remember that man of steel that you talk about, because we had discussed the issue of the lottery and I'll never forget—I think I not only remember Senator Codington with that smile on his face and the gleam in his eye and all those committee meetings day after day, but I remember him standing right over there on that floor, Senator Ballantine, backing up what I had had to say about the concept of representative democracy. And that's how I'll remember John Codington is speaking on this floor about representative democracy. He was a good man, and he was not just a gentleman, he was a gentle man. I urge your support."

By Senator Hartsell:

"Thank you, Mr. President, members of the Senate. Some of you have spoken about having had lunch with him that day a year ago; I had the occasion to walk across the bridge with him after Session was over, never knowing that while sitting in the office next door a few minutes later I would barely hear a sound and would never be able to talk with him again. It's an emotional and very moving experience just to think about that, particularly when I think about that particular man. He was spoken of by two or three people as being a gentle man, and a gentleman. While walking across the bridge we were doing as we typically did; we spoke about the fact that we were both Davidson gentle men, of which we were both very proud. He embodied everything that I could say that was good about those who we like to think graduated from our joint alma mater. And I think, in reflecting upon that occasion and those conversations, I am reminded of a quotation from Thomas Jefferson, that 'each generation owes to the next those opportunities and possibilities for life at least as great as those passed to it by its own parents.' John Codington, in every field of endeavor, sought to do that. In the medical profession, he clearly did, for he helped not just those in his own locality, but those in other parts of the world. In the field of education, he was a leader, as Senator Jordan has spoken of already this morning. In the field of religion, he clearly did, because it went beyond just his local church, but in the area of world missions. And he sought at the end, in particular, to deal in the area of public service. I feel that it's most unfortunate that that term came short, but I'm certainly thankful that he had the term. Thank you."

By Senator Basnight:

"Thank you, Mr. President, members of this Chamber. John has not left us, he's just out the door and up the stairs. Many of us will see him one day. Betsy, we know you will. Pat, as you struggled with words earlier, I felt that attachment that we all did, for John and his special way of giving, not just to the family that lent him to us for a short time, but in a way that we all greatly respected. He was a giant of a man, and as you well described, Senator Simpson, his character spoke for his self, it was well established, not with words, but actions. His contributions are well spoken of today.

"In my ten years of being here, I've never seen the Senate so quiet, reserved, and respectful. Respectful not so much just for the occasion and the time, but for a very powerful person that lived with us and was a part of this family, Senator Odom, that we hold dear to each other. I had the occasion, as many of you did, to converse and enjoy his company. We all realize that he loved his community and his State and this country. He contributed in many various and different ways. People who have been to Haiti from time to time to give their contribution knew of him. My partner in business goes, as many of you have known people in your communities to go. His knowledge of this world of ours reached all of us. His contributions will never be forgotten. I know the conversation that I had, one of the last ones that we had together, centered around our water, Pat, and what Wilmington and New Hanover County and the Cape Fear meant to him, his time sailing on those broad stretches of blue water of ours, and he telling me what it meant to preserve and keep it as it is today and make it a little better. He cared, yes, about all people in life. We have a small contribution for you, Betsy, and your family. Pat and I believed it was only proper to give you a small token of what he brought to us in the form of his flowers that he loved so much. And, yes, Senator Forrester, they are camellias. Camellias that he was going to help teach me to learn to grow one day. But I'll never forget him, and I'll make a plant in my yard and I'll remember him forevermore. A wonderful North Carolinian. Thank you for letting us have him for this period of time. The flowers will be taken to you by the Sergeant-at-Arms at the appropriate time."

The joint resolution passes its second and third readings, by unanimous consent with members standing. On motion of Senator Ballantine, the joint resolution is ordered, without objection, sent to the House of Representatives by special messenger.

"Heavenly Father, 'the earth is Thine and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. Unto Thee do we lift our souls. What dost Thou require of us? But to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with our Lord.'

"Examine us O Lord, to see if we have walked in integrity, to see if we have trusted in Thee.

"For this gathering we ask that You will direct and prosper all our consultations. Let justice roll down as water, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

"O Lord, Omnipotent Father, we know that all power rests in Thee and Thou hast allowed us to represent this great people. May all our decisions be for the advancement of Thy Glory, for the safety, honor and welfare of all people in our great State.

"We commend to Thy keeping all those who are serving the State of North Carolina. Endue them with loyalty and courage; and grant that in all their deliberations they be aware that they are servants that are here to advance Thy glory. Make us aware of the impacts of our decisions in every matter that arises before us. May we be aware that the power that has been bestowed on each of us should be used that society may prosper. Grant to these men and women the wisdom of Solomon.

"And as we are in session, and when time seems to be dragging, remind us that 'They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and faint not.'

"Endue us with loyalty, courage, and patience. Help us to seek and work for the good of our country. Help us to do it gladly—as unto God. 'Long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light, protect us by Thy Might, Great God, our King.' Amen."

SENATE CHAMBER,
Thursday, March 16, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Prayer is offered by Dr. James M. McDaniel, a retired Presbyterian Minister from Mobile, Alabama, and father of Senator Mark McDaniel from Forsyth, as follows:

"Our Father, those who call North Carolina home live in a place of incredible natural beauty, where the cardinal, the flowering dogwood and longleaf pine are in abundance.

"It is a high and holy task to which You have called these men and women who serve in the Senate of North Carolina. May they be people of honor and integrity, sensitive to Your Presence in their private lives and in their public service, remembering the words of the Psalmist, 'Unless the Lord build the house, those who would build it labor in vain. Unless the Lord watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain.'

"O God, fill Your servants here with Your Power and Wisdom, for they have an enormous responsibility. They oversee and make the laws for a State that stretches 188 miles from Pelham in the north to Caswell Beach in the south, 499 miles from Stumpy Point in the east to Hiwassee in the west.

"In the face of our challenges, we ask not for tasks equal to our strength, but for strength equal to our tasks—however great those tasks may be. In their work together may the members of this Senate put aside petty differences that divide, and concentrate on things they have in common—the best interests of the State as a whole.

"May Your Servants here seek to serve the people with energy, intelligence, imagination, and love. In their work together may they find a genuine joy, and—when the lengthening shadows that fall down around them until it becomes night—then may they hear the whispered benediction from God on high, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.'

"We make our prayer in the name of our Creator and Lord. Amen."

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, with a quote from Peter Marshall, as follows:

"O God, even in our most important communications with each other, we seldom rely anymore on just what we hear. We want our conversations put into writing so that we may read what others have said to us and then we also read between the lines.

"That kind of attitude leads to impoverished and petty prayers.

"Today, O Lord, we ask that 'You would not listen to our words, but to the yearnings of our hearts. Hear beneath our very articulate petitions to the crying of our needs.'

"Then we shall have relearned not only how to pray but also how to communicate with one another. In Your Name and for Your Sake, we pray, Amen."

H.J.R. 501, a joint resolution honoring the life and memory of the late James Marshall Hall, former member of the General Assembly.

On motion of Senator East, without objection, the rules are suspended to the end the joint resolution is placed before the Senate for immediate consideration.

With unanimous consent, on motion of Senator East, the joint resolution and the remarks of members honoring and memorializing the life and memory of The Honorable James Marshall Hall are spread upon the Journal, as follows:

House Joint Resolution 501, a joint resolution honoring the life and the memory of the late James Marshall Hall, former member of the General Assembly.

Whereas, James Marshall Hall was born in King on August 6, 1922, one of three children of Raleigh F. Hall and Hattie Fowler Hall; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall graduated from King High School in 1940; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall was a veteran of the United States Army, serving his country during World War II from 1942 to 1946; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall had several vocations; he engaged in farming, served as an insurance agent for 18 years, and worked for the Division of Motor Vehicles for seven years; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall married Melba Covington Hall on January 24, 1946, and they had three children, Barry, Bruce, and Emily Hall; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall devoted 38 years of his life to little league baseball, enriching the lives of many young children in his community; and

Whereas, for a number of years, James Marshall Hall served as President of King Little League Baseball, as President of the North Carolina Little League

Baseball Association, as a member of the Southern Region Tournament Advisory Board for Little League Baseball, and as District Administrator of Little League Baseball, Inc.; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall was active in the American Legion and was a member of the King Lions Club, of which he served as treasurer from 1968 to 1972; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall was an active member of the Republican Party; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall represented Stokes County with distinction as a member of the House of Representatives during the 1973 and 1985 Sessions of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall was a member of the Mount Olive Baptist Church in King; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall will be remembered by all who knew him as a loving and devoted family man; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall died on July 7, 1994; and

Whereas, James Marshall Hall is survived by his children, Barry Hall, Bruce Hall, and Emily Southern, four grandchildren, and one great–grandchild;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring:

Section 1. The General Assembly honors the life and memory of its former member, James Marshall Hall, and expresses its gratitude for his service to the people of North Carolina.

Sec. 2. The General Assembly expresses its deep sorrow to the family and friends of James Marshall Hall for the loss of a beloved father, grandfather, and a true friend.

Sec. 3. The Secretary of State shall transmit a certified copy of this resolution to the family of James Marshall Hall.

Sec. 4. This resolution is effective upon ratification.

By Senator East:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. Mr. James Marshall Hall served his country well. He served his community well, and he served his State well by his service in the North Carolina House. Mr. Hall was well loved by the youth of his area. He was active in Little League baseball. He was the President of the North Carolina Little League Baseball Association, and as a member of the Southern Region Tournament Advisory Board for Little League Baseball, and as Director—I'm sorry, and as District Administrator of the Little League Baseball, Inc. Mr. Hall died within the past year. We all miss Mr. Hall, and hope you'll support this resolution."

By Senator Cochrane:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I had the opportunity of serving with Marshall Hall in the House. A little, quiet man and seldom one to speak on the floor and occasionally in committee. I think that those of us who served with him in the House and certainly the constituency that he represented knew the philosophy that permeated all of his votes, and that he was always there on behalf of that constituency from the mountains that sent him to Raleigh. He was not a person of any special interest group except the people of those counties he represented. He will be missed and the kind of straight– arrow individual that he was all of his days is certainly a vanishing breed in our country."

By Senator Foxx:

"Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to say that I had the privilege of having Marshall Hall serve as my Representative, and also had the privilege of working with him last spring in the primary. And I want to say Senator Cochrane and Senator East have both said very positive things about Marshall and I certainly agree with them. I'd like to reiterate, particularly, what Senator Cochrane said—that he had no particular constituency; he served the people because of the pleasure of serving them and he very much wanted to come back here last year and serve again. And I think that we should honor his memory in this way. Thank you."

By Senator Conder:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I knew Marshall because we came here in 1985, Senator Basnight, and the thing that really impressed me about this kind gentleman was his love of Little League baseball. He continually talked to me about it. In fact, I think we spent a lot of time down at the Radisson back in '85. He talked a lot about Little League baseball and what it meant to the young people in his District, the young people in the State of North Carolina, and to me, he was a real gentleman, was a person that did a lot for this State and never sought any credit. He went about his business just like a quiet person would do, but he was a wonderful person and I really enjoyed knowing him and I certainly commend this resolution, too. Thank you."

By Senator Basnight:

"Thank you, Mr. President, and Members of the Senate. I, too, had the opportunity to be a part of that Session with Representative Hall, and what a wonderful man he was. He served his country during World War II and then he contributed to the many children—38 years working with the youth and the Little League Baseball Association, developing their minds and their habits, teaching those very traits that all of us should be a part of, the traits of their future life, whatever they may be. All of those children were touched by his contributions. Yes, he would stop and quickly talk about the youth of tomorrow and the opportunities that they had before us and before him, because of his contributions. He was a wonderful man. I commend this resolution to each of you."

The joint resolution passes its second and third readings with members standing. The Chair orders the joint resolution enrolled.

The Chair extends courtesies of the gallery to the friends and family of the late James Marshall Hall—Emily and Larry Southern, Barry and Rachel Hall, Bruce and Carmel Hall, Peggy Smith, Patrick Tuttle, and Craig Smith.

FORTY–SEVENTH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
Monday, April 17, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Remarks and prayer are offered by Dr. Jeff Wisdom, Senior Minister of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church in Goldsboro, as follows:

"Thank you very much for the invitation, and good evening. Before our Session's evening prayer I would like to thank Senator John Kerr and your Senate

Chaplain, Dr. Mike Morris, for tonight's invitation. And also, before the prayer, I've got one short story for you.

"Two young boys are playing hooky from school when they are found by the town's preacher. The preacher, when he finds them, says, 'Boys, what are you doing playing hooky from school? Don't you want to go to heaven?' The oldest of the boys says, 'No, I don't want to go to heaven.' The preacher says, 'What? You mean you don't want to go to heaven when you die?' The boy said, 'Oh, yes—when I die. I thought you were getting a group to go right now.'

"Right now, it's time to pray, and we would invite you to do that right now.

"Father, our prayer this evening is a simple one. Grant to each of us the integrity and wisdom, grace and courage to make the choices required by conscience. Help us measure responsibility with grace and matters of practical concern with vision. And always, remind us that You are still present and available, and that You are as close as a prayer and as personal as repentance. Amen."

With unanimous consent, the President grants leaves of absence for tonight to Senator Smith due to hospitalization; to Senator Hoyle due to business; to Senator Webster; and to Senator Edwards.

Senator Basnight, President Pro Tempore, announces the Journal of Thursday, April 13, has been examined and is found to be correct. On his motion, the Senate dispenses with the reading of the Journal and it stands approved as written.

Senator Ledbetter is appointed to represent Senator Smith in his absence.

On motion of Senator Basnight, seconded by Senator Jordan, the Senate adjourns at 3:18 P.M. to meet tomorrow, Thursday, April 20, at 1:30 P.M.

FIFTIETH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
Thursday, April 20, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"'A voice was heard in Ramah,' wrote the Prophet Jeremiah, 'wailing and loud lamentation; Rachel weeping for her children; she refused to be consoled, because they are no more.'

"We turn our thoughts and prayers today to the people in Oklahoma City whose lives have been devastated by the senseless and horrific act of murder that occurred yesterday. We are all affected, O God.

"In the midst of our corporate lament, we try to reconcile our declaration that You are all powerful, You are all good and yet terrible things happen. The problem of evil is perhaps the greatest single problem for our religious faith. No explanation will seem plausible to the parents of a child who has been murdered. For those of us who believe in You, the answer remains a dark and awful mystery.

"Be especially close to our brothers and sisters who are waking today hoping that yesterday was only a very bad dream. Rescue those who are still alive but trapped in the ruins of that building. Permit the people there and all of us, O Lord, the experience of grief, anger, even emotional revenge until one day through catharsis we are able to say, as Joseph did to his brothers who had sold him into slavery, 'You meant it for evil, but God used it for good.' Amen."

With unanimous consent, the President grants leaves of absence for today to Senator Smith due to hospitalization, and to Senator Plexico.

Senator Basnight, President Pro Tempore, announces the Journal of yesterday, Wednesday, April 19, has been examined and is found to be correct. On his motion, the Senate dispenses with the reading of the Journal and it stands approved as written.

Whereas, with seven-tenths of a second left on the game clock, a three point basket made by Charlotte Smith of the women's basketball team at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill earned the team and Charlotte Smith a place in sports history; and

Whereas, on April 3, 1994, the UNC women defeated Louisiana Tech by a score of 60–59, becoming the 1994 National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division I Champions and winning the first national basketball title for the women's basketball program; and

Whereas, the team's 1994 appearance at the NCAA Tournament was its third straight appearance and its eighth overall appearance; and

Whereas, this championship brings great honor and distinction to the State and deserves recognition; and

Whereas, the success of the UNC women's basketball team reflects a tradition of athletic excellence in basketball that is valued by many North Carolinians; and

Whereas, the success of women's basketball in North Carolina is a fitting testimonial and memorial to great women's basketball coaches of the past, including the late June Galloway, a teacher and coach, who in her last three seasons at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro led the women's basketball team to a record of 38–14, a State championship, and a fourth place finish in the National Invitational Women's Intercollegiate Tournament in 1971, and including the late Mike Matheson, who coached the girls' basketball team at Bandys High School in Catawba County to two consecutive State AA championships in 1987 and 1988; and

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Winner rises to a point of personal privilege and offers remarks marking the Jewish Holiday of Yom Hashoah. With unanimous consent, the Chair orders the remarks of Senator Winner spread upon the Journal, as follows:

By Senator Winner:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, today is the Jewish Holiday of Yom Hashoah, probably a holiday that most of you have never heard of. Senator Marshall Rauch, when he was here started a tradition of taking a moment on this day to reflect upon it. It is a holiday that we remember the Nazi holocaust of the six million Jews and Catholics and Gypsies who were murdered during and around World War II. That tradition was then carried forward by Senator Winner of Buncombe and I think I have now inherited it. So, I would like to take just a minute to reflect on the meaning of this holiday and why it is important that here, fifty years after Auschwitz was liberated, that we in the North Carolina Senate still take a moment to remember those terrible events.

"I went this last fall with my mother to the Holocaust Museum in Washington. I really went because she wanted to go and she didn't want to go alone. So being a somewhat dutiful daughter, I went with her. And I was incredibly moved by the experience. I expected to be taken aback by the horror of it all and I was. It is incredible to really face what horrible things human beings are capable of doing to each other. But what surprised me was how obsessed I became by the question of how the rest of the world could let it happen. And I found that for days after that whenever I talked to somebody in my mother's generation, I asked, I couldn't help but ask, 'But what were you thinking in the late 1930's? How did we let this happen? How did the world let this build up and happen without stopping it before it reached such horror?' And I think that that is what is important for us to remember, not only that it is possible for humans to do these horrible things to each other, but that we have a very grave responsibility to step forward and make sure that it doesn't happen. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sawyer rises to a point of personal privilege and requests his remarks be spread upon the Journal. His remarks honoring the lives of John Thomas Fowler, Joe King, and Marshall Kurfees, with unanimous consent, are spread upon the Journal, as follows:

"Well, this is my maiden speech for the 1995 Senate. Up to this point I haven't been able to speak more than about two or three sentences in a row. But I did have something that I wanted to share with you, and being in several discussions with my distinguished seatmate here. We were discussing some personalities in Winston-Salem. And one thing about making these few remarks, I did want you to know that I was capable of saying a few words, that I'm not like a mummy or a pyramid imbedded in the inscrutable 'sands of the Nile.'

"But I asked him about a certain man by the name of John T. Fowler, John Thomas Fowler. His father was in the tobacco business, as so many people in Winston–Salem are, RJR. And I soldiered with him at Fort Bragg, back in the old days of the wagon soldiers; and the wagon soldiers, of course, are the caissons and the pieces of field artillery. And we went on to go our separate ways, and this man went to England with the Eighth Air Force, and he was a tail–gunner on a B–17. He became a Staff Sergeant and later became a Captain. And he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and several air medals, and he shot down German planes and ME–109s all over Germany and all over France. And I just hated to think that this man would pass into anonymity and this is why I wanted to say a word or two about him. But he was a great soldier. He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina. And that's where he's buried today—in a modest little grave on a hill over there right adjacent to the University of North Carolina. And my voice can't help but quiver when I think about this man because at least I can say that I knew one brave man.

"Another man that I wanted to just speak a short word concerning is one Joe King, and if you've lived in the vicinity of Winston–Salem, I'm sure you know who Joe King is. When I was here, up at the Old Capitol Building in 1951, his claim to fame was a little dummy that he carried around, and he did a ventriloquist act. And later he became one of the world's greatest artists; his oil paintings hang in some of the greatest museums in the world, and one, particularly, he was commissioned to paint Queen Elizabeth. And that one is here in the vicinity of this Building. But we all know him as Joe King. He was a great man, he was very witty, and he was a very, very intelligent person. In fact, he was right up there at the tops as far as the House of Representatives was concerned, and he was a member of the House of Representatives.

"Another man that I would like to pay just a moment of tribute to is a former mayor of Winston–Salem, Marshall Kurfees. And I used to take groups of soldiers, combat people just out of the hospital and soldiers who were back from the war and I was the one that usually engineered this because I knew what would happen. And I'd call Marshall and I'd tell him that I had a group of soldiers and there might be twenty of us, and he would invite us over to his house and if you wanted to see 'southern hospitality' at its best, the Mayor of Winston–Salem, Marshall Kurfees, was able to accomplish that.

"And with that, I'll go my ways, and may I have some Senate bill at a later date that I can come back and do a little more than what I'm doing here. Thank you very much."

On motion of Senator Basnight, seconded by Senator Edwards, the Senate adjourns at 9:43 P.M. to meet tomorrow, Tuesday, May 2, at 3:00 P.M.

FIFTY–SIXTH DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
Tuesday, May 2, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Prayer is offered by Dr. Tom Austin, Pastor of Knollwood Baptist Church in Winston–Salem, as follows:

"God of the Universe, grant us to know we are made by love and for love, and in Your world we learn to love or hate. Help us to understand acutely today that there are but two loves: love of ourselves and love of God and of others.

"And each time that we love ourselves, there is a little less love for You and for others; it's a draining away of love, it's a loss of love, for love is made to leave self and fly toward others.

"Each time it's diverted to ourselves, it withers, rots, and dies. Love of self, Lord, is a poison that we absorb each day; love of self offers us bread and gives none to our neighbor; love of self chooses the best part and keeps the best place; love of self indulges our senses and supplies them from the table of others; love of self speaks about self and makes us deaf to the words of others; love of self chooses, and forces that choice on a friend; love of self puts on a false front; it wants to shine, overshadowing others; love of self is self–pitying and overlooks the suffering of others; love of ourselves advertises our ideas and despises those of others; love of ourselves thinks us virtuous, it calls us good people; love of self induces us to make money, to spend it for our pleasure, to hoard it for our future; love of self advises us to give to the poor in order to ease our consciences and live in peace.

"What is more serious, Lord, is that love of self is a stolen love. It was destined for others; they needed it to live, to thrive and we have diverted it. So the love of self creates human suffering, human misery, the wretchedness of people.

"Today, Lord, I ask You to help us to love. Grant us, Lord, to spread true love in Your world. Grant that by us and Your children it may penetrate a little into all circles, all societies, all economic and political systems, all debates, all laws, all committee meetings, all contracts, all rulings; grant that it may penetrate into offices, factories, apartment buildings, movie houses, dance halls, churches and temples; grant that it may penetrate the hearts of people, and that we may never forget that the battle for a better world is a battle of love in the service of love.

"Help us to love, Lord, not to waste our powers of love, to love ourselves less and less in order to love others more and more, that around us, no one should suffer or die because we have stolen the love they needed to live.

"We make our prayer in the name of The God of all people. Amen."

With unanimous consent, the President grants a leave of absence for today to Senator Smith due to hospitalization.

Senator Basnight, President Pro Tempore, announces the Journal of yesterday, Monday, May 1, has been examined and is found to be correct. On his motion, the Senate dispenses with the reading of the Journal and it stands approved as written.

The President of the Senate extends courtesies of the floor to Dr. Elizabeth P. Kanof of Raleigh, who is serving the Senate as Doctor of the Day.

By Senator Odom:

"Mr. President, Members of the Senate, I rise for a very brief moment of personal privilege. It was almost a year ago today that I stood here on this floor and expressed my appreciation for the signs of support and love that came from this Senate Body upon the death of my mother; and I rise again to say thank you to all of you as a result of the passing of my father last week.

"Senator Smith, you spoke so eloquently last night in your expressions to the folks during your illness, so you know of what I speak here. I wanted to share with you folks a glimpse of my father. And so I took the liberty of putting at your desk his obituary and also a poem that I wrote about him. Senator Cochrane, my father was what I would term a very gentle, yellow-dog Democrat; but you would have loved him, because he never exhibited a mean bone in his body to anyone.

"Though he was crippled, he stood ten feet tall in the eyes of his children. And, Senator Basnight, though he was not formally educated, and I think the only time he ever went to college was to see me graduate, he was one of the smartest men that I ever knew. And I think most importantly about him is the fact that he exemplified the backbone of this nation. He was hard-working; he was honest; he was generous; but most importantly, he taught by deed and not by word. He was a very uncommon simple man. Thank you."

On motion of Senator Basnight, seconded by Senator Perdue and Senator Plyler, the Senate adjourns at 1:29 P.M. in memory of the mother of Senator Perdue, Irene Moore, and the brother of Senator Plyler, Wilburn Silas Furr, to meet tomorrow, Wednesday, May 24, at 1:00 P.M.

"Eternal God, we tend to glorify adulthood and wisdom and worldly prudence, but Holy Scripture reverses all this. Scripture says that the inescapable condition of entrance into divine fellowship is that we become like a little child, tender and full of wonder and unspoiled by hard skepticism on which we often pride ourselves.

"God, You have sent children into the world not only to replenish it, but also to serve as sacred reminders of something unspeakably precious which we are always in danger of losing.

"In all the important decisions we must make that involve the well-being of other people, give us the heart of a child to help as we make up our adult minds. Amen."

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Almighty God, on this Memorial Day we remember the words of poet Edwin Maricham when he wrote,

> How shall we honor them, our Deathless Dead?
> With strew of laurel and the stately tread?
> With blaze of banners brightening overhead?
> No, not alone these cheaper praises bring:
> They will not have this easy honoring.
> How shall we honor them, our Deathless Dead?
> How keep their mighty memories alive?
> In one who feels their passion, they survive!
> Flatter their souls with our deeds, and all is said.

"To God be the Glory for the brave men and women who have died in the service of our country. Amen."

With unanimous consent, the President grants a leave of absence for tonight to Senator Forrester, due to eye surgery.

"Gracious God, even here in the Senate, where matters aren't final until the last vote, we would prefer that You settle all the questions we have about life—now. We want our faith fixed; we want to understand the deep and complex matters that impact our lives.

"But that's not the way it usually is between You and us. You keep prodding us, moving us, beckoning us in faith. Sometimes it's tough for us to keep up with You, and we want to rest.

"As an encouragement, renew our sense of the adventure of being loved by You, rekindle our enthusiasm for following in Your Footsteps; then give us faith to follow. Amen."

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Loving God, we spend a lot of time trying to put our best foot forward. We get all dressed up, put on our smiles and try to be the people we wish we were rather than to admit who we really are.

"Though it is a worthy effort, some days it is also a heavy burden to shoulder.

"So, love us, Lord, take us as we are this day, forgive us, remake us as the people You would have us to be rather than the people we only wish we were. In Your Holy Name, we pray. Amen."

With unanimous consent, on motion of Senator Basnight, the remarks of the Senators memorializing the life and memory of Senator Mary Frances Powell Seymour, are spread upon the Journal, as follows:

By Senator Martin of Guilford:

"Thank you, Mr. President, and Members of the Senate. This is a really tremendous occasion and as I use the word tremendous, I also think of the word celebration which is a word that Hubert Seymour, who we also started calling 'Senator Seymour' around here, used so repeatedly as we went about memorializing and remembering Mary. He kept referring to the fact that this is a celebration of a wonderful life well spent, and, indeed, it was. And that celebration goes on today. Joining here with us are the family members that have already been mentioned; and, also, Hubert Seymour, seated downstairs, here with us; and, also, another person who was very close to Mary during her entire time here and close to us also, Penny Williams, who is now working with Senator Hoyle. And Wanda Hunt, who was a Member of the Senate—a number of you know—and they roomed together for awhile, and she's here also to join in the celebration.

"I would just indicate that, for me, it was a very distinct pleasure having the opportunity to serve with Mary Seymour, but also to know Mary Seymour. When I first got involved in the political arena—I ran for the House in 1980—during that campaign period is when I first really got to know Mary as a very wonderful, very alive, very outgoing individual who was very sensitive to the needs of her constituents and of the State, and who was a real friend indeed; who was very helpful in steering me along the right course, and also many other individuals. I also always associate Greensboro with Mary Seymour, and not just because she served on the City Council and the other things that were mentioned in the resolution, Mayor Pro Tem, and so forth. But one easy way to remember it, Senator Shaw, is the fact that she adopted green as her campaign colors, and that always tied in that symbolism and then she carried it on when she ran for the General Assembly. And, again, it was—everything has been a wonderful experience.

"On most items we were very close allies on the things we sought to do, and I would venture to say that during the time that Mary led the Guilford delegation, I would say that the delegation was the best that it's ever been during the time that I've been here, as far as working together cohesively, as far as having a very good, friendly, cordial relationship. She was just the type of lady with those social graces that tended to bring people together, rather than draw people apart.

"She always, as all of you know, I think, close at heart, you know, she got the opportunity to speak in favor or do anything in behalf of Peace College that was a very important spot in her life.

"I'll not go on and on, I just will—I wanted to relay a story that some of you are aware of involving her dedication to the legislative process. But I understand that our President Pro Tem wants to inform you of that information, so I'll defer to him on that count. But I will just stop at this moment and again ask all of you to join in support of this resolution honoring Mary Seymour, who was a friend to all of us who worked with her and who knew her, and to continue that celebration that Hubert so often speaks of, Mr. President. Thank you, very much. And at the proper time again, if the family could be recognized."

By Senator Shaw:

"Mr. Chairman, I've known Mary Seymour a long time. We worked together when she was on the City Council in Greensboro and I was on the County Commission. I've never known a stronger Democrat than Mary Seymour, and she said the same thing about me on the other side of the fence; but we could work together. And I've never known a stronger person in my life, man or woman, than Mary Seymour. She worked hard at politics, she worked hard at being an elected official, and she had great help in Hubert. I remember going out to Precinct 32 one morning about eleven o'clock in Greensboro and it was pouring down rain, I mean it was a frog–strangling rain. And there was one person out in front of that schoolhouse that was all bundled up with an old hat pulled down over his ears, and it was Hubert. He was handing out campaign literature; and she got elected. But it was dedication.

"I remember one night here last year; it was one o'clock in the morning. We only had thirty–four people on this floor, thirty–four Senators. And I was getting tired, my arthritis was bothering me, and I started to say, 'I'm going home,' and I looked over, right over there, there was Mary Seymour sitting ramrod straight, and I said, 'If she can make it, I can make it, too.' So she gave a lot of strength to people in her lifetime, Hubert, that didn't even know her—didn't know her well. But she meant a great deal to me because of how tough she was, and I'd say to her grandchildren, you know you had a great Grandma. Thank you."

By Senator Perdue:

"Members of the Senate and Hubert and Mary's fine family. Mary Seymour was truly, I believe, one of North Carolina's finest citizens. I got to know her very well. She took me under her wing when I was a freshman in the House, and I truly loved your Mom. She was a wife, first of all, a marvelous mother, a good Christian; she was a volunteer; she worked in schools and civic organizations and she finally got into politics, and it bit her bad. She loved every single minute of her life as a public servant.

"She was a role model to all of us here, as you've heard Senator Bob Shaw say. She taught each of us who watched her during the last four years, about the marvelous words, dignity and courage and bravery and leadership. One of the things that I do that a lot of you all don't know is I keep a daily diary. And when I realized that the resolution was on the floor today I went back through my diary of three years ago, and I remembered that Mary and I decided that we would be brave one afternoon and ride, because of our allegiance to Senator Russell Walker, over to the zoo in Asheboro. And we didn't want to do it, but we thought we'd do it and we'd have a good time doing it because Mary could always make life fun. She had already had her first bout of cancer, had successfully completed her chemotherapy, and was in remission. And we spent the whole afternoon at the zoo. We saw all of the events. We ate and drank, and I think we even fussed about the fact that you couldn't find a glass of wine there that night, and coming back on the bus, Mary and I talked like two women talk sometimes. And from my diary I will quote what I wrote that night when I went to bed. Mary said to me on that bus that night, 'Every day is a blessing, Bev. I smile when I get up in the morning and I smile when I go to bed at night. My life has been full and productive. I'm thankful for every day that God gives me. That's as much as any human being can ask. I give and I receive, and I am blessed. Death for me will never be a passing, but a celebration.' Her life was truly a celebration."

By Senator Lucas:

"Mr. President and Members of the Senate. I just made a few notes on Mary Seymour. My favorite Scripture is John 9:4, that says, 'I must work the works of Him Who sent me while it is day: night comes, when no man can work.' I saw Mary doing her work daily. She was immaculate in her dress, thanks to Hubert. Her make–up was always in place. She was always on the Senate Floor on time. Her hair was always coiffeured, and she was so encouraging to us. She was steadfast and unmoveable in her perseverance in getting her bills passed. Her last legacy to me, Hubert, was when I attended the funeral service and found out that Mary Seymour supported an African–American College known as Bennett, and gave them her very all. And so today, as I stand, I say that her spirit shall live with me always. She did the work of Him Who sent her while it was day, because she knew that night would come and she could no longer work. Thank you."

By Senator Odom:

"Members of the Senate, I did not know Mary Seymour for the long period of time that many of you had that great privilege, but I want to share with you the impact that she had on my life in just the few short years that I knew her here. Because she gave to me a great comfort and great strength by how she dealt with cancer. Many of you know, Senator Carpenter, how interested all of us become in certain subjects when suddenly it touches you, and two years ago when I was diagnosed with cancer, the first person in this Body that I went to was Senator Seymour. And to be able to sit with someone who had struggled and who had exhibited the compassion and the caring about life and people that she exhibited and be able to talk to someone like myself and give comfort and give strength is a testament to her character and to her ability to relate to other people. I will not go into the number of times that she and I shared experiences with chemotherapy, shared the dark moments that you have, but whenever you finished talking with Mary Seymour, you came away feeling that life consisted of today, and today was worth living. She always had a smile on her face and I'll never forget her."

By Senator Soles:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I am very pleased to stand and speak on this resolution on behalf of our former colleague, Senator Mary Seymour. She came to the House of Representatives in 1977, which was the same time I came to the Senate, but it wasn't long before I realized there was a bright new star over in the House. As she came over and talked with us, and talked about her bills, it became apparent that she was someone I wanted to know better. When she finally moved over to the Senate, some, I believe, about ten years later, about 1987, Senator Russell Walker and I were sitting in those seats right there where Senator Parnell and Senator Sherron are now, and she sat behind us. It was a real delight to have her there, and she told so many stories I couldn't repeat many of them because I don't remember them, and a lots of them I wouldn't want to repeat because she gave them to us in confidence. They were generally true stories and delightful stories. When Senator Walker and I moved to seats 3 and 4, I went to her and said, 'Mary, please move over there with us. I don't want you to leave us, I want to be where we can continue this friendship, so she moved and sat right where Senator Carpenter is.

"She told me more than one story about how she grew up here in Raleigh in a political atmosphere, the many good times she had over at Peace College, and she had particularly good stories about how, when she was at Harvard with Hubert, and how one day she ran into her long–time good school chum from here in Raleigh, Senator Lura Tally, at the swimming pool there. Senator Tally's husband, Joe, was a student at Harvard and Hubert was a student at Harvard, and the tales they could tell about how they worked to put those men through school was something to hear.

"She also talked about public life and how much she enjoyed serving her home of Greensboro. She did consider that to be her home, in Guilford County. If there was anything that I've ever heard her criticize or that she didn't like, was if someone stood up as we tend to do sometimes and, as you might say, put on airs or become a little pompous, or posture a little bit, I can hear her under her breath talking about 'em. And she didn't care for that a little bit. Not even a little bit, and more than one time I've heard her talk about it and I always tried not to put on airs or posture when she was back of me because I knew I could hear her having me to sit down. Mary led by example. She loved North Carolina, she loved the General Assembly, she loved Hubert, she loved that boat, and she loved that dog. Thank you."

By Senator Edwards:

"Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I sat one seat removed from Senator Seymour during the last Session. And I must admit that I have almost for a half century ministered to a lot of people. But I don't believe I've ministered to people who seemed to have had the kind of relationship that she and her husband had, because I would watch her at times because she was not well, as we know, but I'm sure that if Hubert sat in this area here, he watched her and before I knew that she had any kind of need, he was there, ready to help her, because across the years I'm sure that he knew by her expressions and by her movements just what her needs were. I don't believe, across the years, that I've seen anybody who faced the inevitable, death, that is, as did Mary Seymour. She knew it was inevitable, soon, that is, but she faced it with faith and with poise and with confidence. Mary Seymour not only taught us how to live, but she also taught us how to die. And Hubert, at this point, I can empathize with you. Thank you, Mr. President."

By Senator Plexico:

"When I came here as a freshman five years ago, we had an orientation. Senator Hartsell, you remember that? Senator Forrester? And in the midst of all of us true freshmen, there was somebody else there, and it was Mary Seymour.

And she'd already served several terms in the House, she had been in the Senate, but Mary came back, she'd been re-elected again, after having been absent, I think, for a term, and I guess decided, Hubert, that she needed to go back to school and see what all this newfangled stuff these freshmen were going to learn so she could be just as good. Well, she was a whole lot better. But I was so amazed to find someone who'd been here to attend that orientation with us, and the end of that week we went to the Angus Barn, my first foray to the Angus Barn, and I sat by Mary that night. And she told me, explained to me how much this Body would come to mean to me and how much the friendships would. And she was right on both counts. But she didn't know how much of a leader she would be to me, and I think all those freshmen in that class who looked to her. I could sit on this aisle over here and look over, Senator Carpenter, where you're sitting and I guess the thing I can say about Mary Seymour is that she was one tough lady. And I think to Mary, that would be the highest compliment. And we will miss her dearly."

By Senator Conder:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I don't want to be redundant and repeat, but I first met Mary in my freshman year, 1985, that was the year, Hubert, she sat out. And she came into my office, it was over in the other building—I remember it just as it were today. She had a broken leg, and Hubert and I were reminiscing a few minutes ago about her broken leg and how it happened, but it goes that they were in Spain on a vacation and traveling the country, and they were traveling around and she tripped over just a little old strip of something that caused her to fall, and Hubert had rented this car because they wanted to tour the whole country while they were over there. And this doctor was with them, and he wanted to tour the whole country, so he kept giving Mary some type medication to not hold her back because they wanted to make the whole trip. So he gave her, I think it was codeine or something so they could finish the trip, which they did. As it turned out, Mary had a broken leg, but as soon as she got back to this country, she had a job doing a little lobbying, so she was lobbying, I think, for one of the railroads at that time. And I really got started to know her then. But Mary Seymour was a lady of strength, she was a lady of courage, she was a lady of conviction, and, yes, Senator Perdue, she inspired us all. But, most of all, Mary Seymour was a lady of integrity. And I commend this resolution to you. Thank you, very much."

By Senator Cochrane:

"Senator Seymour was already in the House when I came down here, and she was one of those Democrats who was friendly to a freshman Republican, and I always valued that. One of the things I have always remembered about Mary is something that I read years ago, that reputation is what you are known by, character is what you are. Reputation is what is on your epitaph, character is what you are in the hereafter. I am absolutely convinced that the character that we have all witnessed the last four years secured a very wonderful place in the hereafter for Mary Seymour. Another thing, sometimes, for us who are on the back row, times get kinda tough. Everybody doesn't love us, everybody doesn't want us to do well. The one thing that I particularly remember the last four years, sitting here, is when things would get to where they were maybe a little tougher than usual, I would see Mary and I would think, 'By golly, what that lady can do, I can try to do,' because the character that's there is something I hope to have sometime. Hubert, it has been an honor for us to know the both of you and your family."

By Senator Basnight:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Hubert, Mary's children, Penny, Wanda, all friends, Senators. She was a wonderful person. She saw a better day, a better opportunity for others. She knew the sun would shine, and she knew, as well, that night would come, C.R. She realized that there would be times when the days weren't quite what she would want them to be. She was a giant of a person. R. C., I remember when she came to the Senate and sat behind Russell and yourself, and then when she moved to the chair that Senator Carpenter now holds. I'll cherish the moments and times that Hubert joined us, as the 'other Senator' from Guilford, and supported a grand lady. A lady that gave me courage and knowledge that there are people stronger than those of us in politics or those of us that we surround ourselves with as our friends and our neighbors. We understand and realize that there are more powerful forces that keep us strong and allow us to have the will and the determination to make a better life for others.

"Senator Shaw, I remember well, as you remember, and everyone here, the night that Hubert and her walked across this Chamber for the last time, and I saw, as many others saw, a person who had dedicated their entire life to helping people. You speak of losing someone and not seeing them during this life of ours on earth. I know we all feel today as we talk and think about Mary and reminisce some that Mary is in the proper place. Mary is where all of us desire to be.

"Senator Soles, yes, that was her pet peeve. I remember a day when there was great debate and discussion among some Senators and the cameras were in the Chamber. The debate meant very little, the discussion even less, and Mary said as she walked out of Chambers this way, to me, Hubert, that 'that's typical of that you–know–who, to take our time when there's more important matters of what we should be about.' And I stood behind Hubert for a few brief minutes and I jeckled with him about something that was rather funny, and he said, 'You know, Senator, you're not much different than the debate today. Hardly worth the conversation.'

"Ken Levenbook, who's worked in the Senate from the day since I came here was telling me a story, Hubert, that you'll appreciate, and you'll like, because it describes Mary very well in her determination and dogmatic ways to succeed and do things on behalf of her constituents and the people of this State. He was having his first newborn, a young son, about that time that she came to the Senate. I forgot the time, Ken, that it was, but I believe about 12:20 in the morning that Mary called Ken Levenbook about a bill that he was drafting—the very minute that his son's head was entering the new world. And the doctor reported that not only do you have a new son, but you have a Senator on the phone that needs to talk to you if you could just stop labor ever so briefly.

"She did contribute a lot. She's a person that I hope my daughter can follow maybe, in some small way, the type of life that she led. Hubert, we miss her and we love you. And to the children, you had a magnificent mother. We thank you for letting us share with her life in this Senate on behalf of the people she loved and on behalf of the great State of North Carolina."

By Senator Speed:

"Members of the Senate, and the audience, I had the good fortune of knowing Mary Seymour when she served in the House and in the Senate. And I have served a number of terms in the Senate, as well as a few in the House, and with some of the finest citizens that North Carolina has ever produced. But I have never served with anyone that I thought had as much courage and as much dedication as Mary Seymour. She was a very outstanding citizen, she was a fine citizen. All of the things that have been said in the resolution and the fine remarks that have been made, I could certainly say ditto. But we all have lost a fine Senator, and North Carolina has lost one of its finest citizens."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker:

"The Chair at this time would like to make a few remarks about the resolution. Fifteen years ago I was elected to the House and I stepped foot into those Chambers and met Mary Seymour. And I won't go into all that's already been said about this outstanding North Carolinian, but I'll tell all of you that the thing that sticks out in my mind about this lady is what a tenacious, courageous fighter she was.

"I remember, as a freshman in the House, she came by my office to explain a bill to me that she was advocating and wanted my support for her bill. And it's one of my favorite stories about Mary Seymour, because as the conversation proceeded and she patiently explained the bill to me over a thirty–minute period, and as a first–term member, I was carefully listening, trying to understand it. I finally after that period of time looked at Mary and I said, 'Representative Seymour, I'm sorry, I just don't understand your bill.' And she looked me right in the eye and she said, 'Representative Wicker, you don't have to understand it, just vote for the doggone thing.' And that was Mary Seymour.

"If you go up to the Capitol and visit the office which I occupy at this time, you'll see a picture on the mantel. It's a photograph taken of Mary Seymour and I right here in this Chamber on opening day 1993. It appeared in color on the front page of the Greensboro News & Record. And Mary brought me that picture, Hubert, and she was very proud of that day. And that picture and that photograph faces this building. And I want you and your family to know that every day when I come to that office, I think about Mary Seymour because she was truly an inspiration to all of us."

With unanimous consent, the joint resolution passes its second and third readings with members standing, and is ordered sent to the House of Representatives.

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Dear Lord, the attitude with which we begin a new week impacts for good or bad all that ensues. So give us eyes to see, hearts with which to feel, and hands to help. Save us from the temptation to pass by on the other side when we are confronted with the needs of others.

"Recollect in our minds how we sometimes were needy, sometimes hurting, or without much hope, and You reached out to us.

EIGHTY-FIRST DAY

SENATE CHAMBER,
State Capitol
Wednesday, June 14, 1995.

The Senate meets pursuant to adjournment in the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol. The gavel falls and the Senate is called to order by the President of the Senate, the Honorable Dennis A. Wicker, Lieutenant Governor.

Prayer is offered by the Reverend Mike Morris, Senate Chaplain, as follows:

"Dear Lord, in this historic building and on Flag Day, we are predisposed to think of loyalty, allegiance, the heroes of our State, our nation, our faith.

"Forgive us, that having received Your Blessing of Prosperity, we have allowed self-indulgence to divide our loyalty or cause us to redefine allegiance.

"Instead, renew in us today the strong sense of hope that caught the imaginations of our ancestors that we might live as brothers and sisters, one nation under Your Sovereign Leadership, O God.

"And let our loyalties be godly affirmation of the kinds of persons we have chosen to become. Amen."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker:

"If you would remain standing while we prepare to give pledge of allegiance to the flag. Before we do, let me remind all of you that as we make the pledge to our flag, that the wording of this pledge actually varies slightly from the original which was drawn up in 1892 in the office of the Youth Companion magazine in Boston. It was first used in the public schools in celebration of Columbus Day, of course October 12, 1892. The pledge received official recognition by Congress in an act approved on June 22, 1942. The phrase 'under God' was added to the pledge by a Congressional Act on this day, June 14, 1954. At that time President Eisenhour said that, and I am quoting him, 'In this way we are reaffirming the transits of the religious faith in America's heritage and future. In this way we shall constantly strengthen those spiritual weapons which forever will be our country's most powerful resource in peace or war.' At this time let us pledge to our flag of the United States of America."

Led by the President, the Senators and all of those present remain standing and pledge allegiance to the United States of America, reciting:

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

"The Chair would like to take just a moment to welcome all of you who are here today for this ceremony, particularly in the galleries. It is quite different from what we are used to and I would say that this certainly brings back a lot of memories for all of us. We have several former members who served in this Body here today, and family members, and of course the Chair remembers coming up here when my father served in the House and they were still here in this Capitol. And I want to welcome you and thank you for being here as we celebrate Flag Day in honor of our flag of this great country."

With unanimous consent, the President grants a leave of absence for today to Senator Sawyer due to hospitalization and recovery.

"Now, at this time the Chair would recognize the President Pro Tem of the Senate, Senator Basnight of Dare County, for a motion."

Senator Basnight:

"Thank you Mr. President, members of the distinguished Body, Senators. Last night I had the distinct pleasure of having dinner with one of our special members and I would like to share that experience with you just briefly. All of us joined in dinner last night were special, of course, but one served in this Chamber, and as I understand others as well. Senator Simpson served in the House, the old Chamber just across the aisle; Senator Soles, as well, served—no? I understand Senator Speed did, I am in error, but it was Senator Speed that I had dinner with last night. And to reminisce a bit with the Senator was quite a joy to all of us. I believe it is people like him that help make this State great, and Senator Simpson as well.

"For those of you who served in these Chambers and those across the aisle, we salute you for those contributions. But in dinner last night we had a chance to go back in time to certain moments, and I hope that we can record some of that history, not just what we see and are part of today, but of those special members that are part of our families." (See Appendix)

Senator Basnight, President Pro Tempore, announces the Journal of yesterday, Tuesday, June 13, has been examined and is found to be correct. Senator Basnight offers a motion the Senate dispense with the reading of the Journal and it stand approved as written. The motion prevails with a resounding voice vote.

Lieutenant Governor Wicker:

"I'm happy to say that I can certainly hear you much better in here than I can down there [Legislative Building]."

"The Chair is about to ratify the following bills. The Clerk will read."

Senator Simpson: "Mr. President."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "For what purpose does Senator Simpson arise?"

Senator Simpson: "Point of personal privilege."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "The Senator has the floor."

Senator Simpson:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate This old Building brings back a lot of memories. I served here across the hall with Senator Kerr's father, the Lieutenant Governor's father, Senator Speed. It was a little bit different then according to what it is now. I had a seat in the Chamber; there was a secretarial pool; we had no office. The back row seats were spread out in the House near those posts. It's hard to see around them some time, so I've had a little experience with that. Committee meetings were held, different committees were held in the Justice Building, Education Committee met at the Education Building, the rest of them met in buildings around, different buildings around. It got awful hot when it got up into June and July. We had an advantage back then because after one hundred twenty days, they cut the pay off so we didn't stay for a lot of that hot weather. Sometimes I hear complaints from other members about the slowness of the elevators, maybe the buttons don't work as often as you want, but I'll tell you one thing, it's a whole lot better than what we had. Thank you."

Senator Speed: "Mr. President."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "For what purpose does Senator Speed arise?"

Senator Speed: "To speak to a point of personal privilege."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "The Senator has the floor and may state his point of personal privilege."

Senator Speed:

"Members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen who are present, I did have the opportunity of serving in the House in 1961 which was the last year that the General Assembly met in this Building. As Senator Simpson stated the Lieutenant Governor's father was here, Senator John Kerr's father was here, the Honorable Ike Andrews who is sitting over here, was serving at that time and later went on to serve a distinguished career in the United States Congress. Russell Swindell and R. D. McMillan, who afterwards went on to be outstanding lobbyists in the General Assembly. There might be others here, Mr. President, that served at that time. These are the only ones that I can observe at this time. I would appreciate if you would give any of the others an opportunity to stand if they are here.

"It was great experience; as Senator Simpson stated, it was quite different and he outlined some of the differences. It was a close association and very close fellowship among the members of the General Assembly. Most of us were living down at the Sir Walter Hotel and about as much legislation was passed down there as was up here! (Laughter) But we did save a little to enact up here. It was a great experience and I feel honored to have had the opportunity to have served here in the last session and to have served in the Building that we now are meeting in, in the first session. It was a great experience, I have served with many outstanding citizens. It' s just been real gratifying. It's been a real, real pleasure. I want to thank Senator Basnight for the delightful evening last night and the kind remarks. Thank you, very much."

Senator Shaw: "Mr. President."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "For what purpose does Senator Shaw arise?"

Senator Shaw: "Point of personal privilege."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "The Senator has the floor and may state his point of personal privilege."

Senator Shaw:

"Most of you don't know this, but my grandfather, four generations back, served as a member of the Assembly of North Carolina in 1771 before this Building was built. Another grandfather served in the House from 1829 to 1837, and I just want to say to my grandpas, a Republican finally made it." (Laughter)

Senator Conder: "Mr. President."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "For what purpose does Senator Conder, the Majority Leader, arise?"

Senator Conder: "To speak to a point of personal privilege."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker: "The Senator has the floor and may state his point of personal privilege."

Senator Conder:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I rose two years age this day to make these very same identical remarks, but on Flag Day, is the birthday of our Lieutenant Governor, and I wish that you all would join me in giving our Lieutenant Governor a very warm happy birthday wish as well as my daughter Rebecca." (Applause)

Lieutenant Governor Wicker:

"Thank you, very much, Mr. Majority Leader, Members of the Senate, and friends. I will tell you quickly that this morning I learned of a very close friend of mine who also celebrated his birthday today, and I called him to wish him happy birthday, and the first thing I said was, 'Weren't great people born on this day?' And he said, 'Yeah, my dad and I celebrate our birthday today.' (Laughter) I have been humbled by that. Thank you, very much and I appreciate it.

"Senator Basnight of Dare is recognized. Senator before you do, let me ask, if I might, for former members who served in this Body or on the House side if you could signify by either standing or raise your hand so we may be—so we may recognize you. I know Congressman and R.D. is here, and some of the others, Russell Swindell, I see Russell, the Reading Clerk. I see some former members over here to my right, Wanda Hunt, Senator Marshall, Zeb Alley."

Former Senator Rachel Gray from gallery:

"Didn't you say people who had served in this Building?"

Lieutenant Governor Wicker:

"Yes, this one, and now I was going to go to those who had served period. So, if you would just let us recognize you, we are very happy to have you here today. We want to welcome you back here. We appreciate you being part of this ceremony, and for all of you who joined us, I thank you all for coming. Now, at this time the Chair will recognize the President Pro Tem of the Senate, Senator Basnight of Dare County."

Senator Basnight:

"Thank you, Mr. President. I now move that the Senate do recess for fifteen minutes. At the time that we are in recess, 'Miss Culture of North Carolina,' Betty McCain, asks that we join her downstairs for punch and refreshments. You have a total of fifteen minutes, then we will reconvene in our new Chambers."

Lieutenant Governor Wicker:

"You've heard the motion, the Senate will stand in recess until five 'til four."

The gavel falls and the Senate stands in recess at 3:40 P.M. to reconvene in the Senate Chamber of the Legislative Building at 4:55 P.M.

Whereas, the General Assembly extends its sincerest appreciation to all of these women who have unselfishly served the "Tarheel" State;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring:

Section 1. The General Assembly recognizes the 100th year celebration of women serving in state legislatures and the many contributions women serving, or formerly serving, in various capacities in the General Assembly.

Sec. 2. The General Assembly wishes to honor the memory of the women who served in the General Assembly who are now deceased and expresses the gratitude and appreciation of this State and its citizens for their devoted service to North Carolina.

Sec. 3. The Secretary of State shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the women named above who are currently serving in the General Assembly and to the National Foundation for Women Legislators, Inc.

Sec. 4. This resolution is effective upon ratification. (See Appendix)

With unanimous consent, on motion of Senator Basnight, the remarks of Senator Cochrane honoring former women legislators are spread upon the Journal, as follows:

Senator Cochrane:

"Thank you, Mr. President. In the early days of this century, Lillian Exum Clement of Asheville wrote to her brother, 'Mankind has written millions of laws for thousands of years to enforce only eight fundamental ones. I'm going to study law.' This decision set her on a history-making course. In 1920, North Carolina became the first southern State to send a woman to its State Legislature when Miss Clement was elected to the State House by a margin of 10,368 votes to 41. Her election was made more interesting by the fact that, at the time of her nomination, she was ineligible to vote, since the Nineteenth Amendment had not been ratified. It's perhaps indicative of the times that the New York Times expressed its admiration for the men of North Carolina for setting a precedent.

"Her election raised some interesting situations for both her and her colleagues, who referred to her as 'Brother Exum.' When Miss Clement married during her term, the General Assembly had to enact a special law to change her name for the Assembly roll-call. The original legislators never envisioned the need for such a law. Many of her experiences were doubtless the same as all legislators. When she introduced what became known as the 'Clement Bill,' calling for private voting booths and a secret ballot, she found herself deserted by all but a few of her own party. Critics believed these methods would cause politicians to lose direct contact with their voters. After the defeat of the bill, Clement remarked, 'I have a new sensation today. I have felt the steamroller go over me.' Displaying the tenacity that probably got her to the Legislature in the first place, the bill was re-introduced and passed.

"She would say of her election, 'I was afraid at first that men would oppose me because I am a woman, but I don't feel that way now. I have always worked with men and I know them as they are. I have no false illusions or fears of them. I am, by nature, very conservative, but I am firm in my convictions. I want to blaze a trail for other women. I know that years from now there will be many other women in politics, but you do have to start a thing.' And start a thing, she did.

"Although these halls were not immediately filled with women, Clement was followed by two more women House members before the Senate got around to seating its first woman member, Gertrude D. McKee of Jackson County. She was elected in 1930 and she jokingly referred to her forty–nine male colleagues as, 'my children.' McKee was seriously considered as a gubernatorial nominee in the 1944 election. Over the years, a total of 101 women have served in the General Assembly between 1921 and 1959, only thirteen women had served in a legislature. Other firsts followed.

"Geraldine Nielson of Forsyth County was the first Republican woman elected to the Senate, in 1967. Alfreda Johnson Webb was the first African–American woman appointed to the House in 1971, although she was appointed after the Session and therefore never actually served in the Assembly. Annie Brown Kennedy did serve after her appointment in 1979. In the last election, 28 of the 120 legislators elected were women.

"Despite the fact that women legislators have represented opposing parties, different sections of the State, divergent opinions, and diverse age groups, they almost always focused on reform, often championing improvements in the welfare of children and in education. Through the years, women have introduced bills regulating child labor, providing a minimum salary for teachers, requiring increased sanitation for dairy producers, and outlawing marital rape. Because of the efforts of these women, the quality of life in North Carolina was, and is improved. Women have now served as heads of committees, minority and majority leaders, Speaker Pro Tempore. Many good things have been accomplished by all of these women, but there are still many things yet to do.

"We thank those women who came before us for the example that they set, and we look forward to those who will follow the ones of us who are here today. And at the proper time, Mr. President, I hope you will recognize those ladies who did serve in this General Assembly before. They are seated to my right, I beg your pardon—my left, your right, and we are so pleased that they are there and I hope you will acknowledge them at the appropriate time."

With unanimous consent, the joint resolution passes its second and third readings, with Members standing. On motion of Senator Cochrane, without objection, the joint resolution is ordered sent to the House of Representatives by special messenger.

The Chair extends courtesies of the gallery to all former members present. The Senate acknowledges those former Senators present with a standing ovation.

With unanimous consent, on motion of Senator Cochrane, the remarks of Senator Basnight, President Pro Tempore, acknowledging those former members present are spread upon the Journal, as follows:

Senator Basnight:

"To the Members of the Senate. I rise to speak of the occasion, the contributions made to this great State of ours, and some of those Members that most of us, or some of us who have been here for some period of time, can recall who are not with us now. And I can't forget the contributions that Senator Helen Marvin made, as well as Senator Hunt, Senator Tally, and others that I served with. I do not purposely leave out a name, but I just can recall many of the struggles, as many of you have witnessed over time, in their effort to make change, rightful change, to bring equity and fairness to this great State of ours, to give those who are downtrodden among us, an opportunity to succeed and become contributing members of society and their community, and what we all attempt to do, and that's to be the kind of person that we would like for others to be. We seem not just to think of ourselves at times, but sometimes we forget what ourselves are all about.

"I saw Helen, Miss Helen, one day approach the Appropriations Chair's podium to challenge a particular bill that meant a great deal to the women of this State and her children, and I remember her being so evilly chastised for even challenging what, at that time, was the leadership of our Body. But fortunately, not just for women, but for all people who struggle to do right by others, Helen Marvin, her friends, and people like her served in this Assembly, and made North Carolina a better place.

"And, Lura, to you I thank you for your contributions to see that we still have clean air and water, and the streams will flow clean for all future generations. Wanda, you were a real Trojan when people needed you to help those in the human affairs of life. And I know two others who are not gathered here today, your contributions will be remembered as well. I thank each and every one of you for making North Carolina just a little bit better."

Pursuant to Resolution 8 of the 1995 Session Laws, Senator Winner, Co–Chairman of the Education/Higher Education Committee, submits the following report:

TO: Members of the Senate

FROM: S/Senator Winner, Co–Chairman of Senate Education/Higher Education Committee

RE: State Board of Community Colleges Election

The Senate Committee on Education/Higher Education nominates the following individuals for election by the Senate for membership from the State at–large to a six–year term, beginning July 1, 1995, on the State Board of Community Colleges:

Mr. James J. Woody, Jr.
Roxboro, North Carolina

Ms. Janet Pope Puryear
Raleigh, North Carolina

There were two original nominees to fill the position held by Mr. James J. Woody, Jr. Mr. Woody was nominated for a second term and is eligible to be re–elected.

No additional nominations may be received from the floor.

ELECTION OF MEMBER TO THE STATE BOARD OF COMMUNITY COLLEGES

The Education/Higher Education Committee places in nomination the names of James J. Woody, Jr. and Janet Pope Puryear.

The President of the Senate outlines the procedures to be followed and announces pursuant to G.S. 115D–2.1(b)(4)f., no further nominations shall be received.

With unanimous consent, on motion of Senator Basnight, the remarks of the Senators speaking to the nominations are spread upon the Journal, as follows:

By Senator Gulley:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, and colleagues. I rise to say a word or two on behalf of James Woody, who I was honored to be a part of putting his name before us. And I want you to know that James Woody is a life-long resident of Person County in the district that Senator Lucas and I and Senator Webster represent together, and a resident of Roxboro.

"He is Human Resource Director for Chandler Concrete in Burlington. I thought it was important to note that his wife is a public school teacher, has been, and that his mother was a public school teacher as well. James has served on the State Board of Community Colleges for the past six years, for one term. During that time he's only missed one meeting. It's interesting that his attendance was so regular that the one meeting that he was ill in his home in bed, they called him to see what was wrong and why he had missed the meeting. He has given that kind of devoted and loyal service to the State Board.

"He serves as Chair of the Program Services Committee for the Board of Community Colleges and he also serves as Chair of the Teaching and Excellence Committee, and I think has shown by actions not by words that he is dedicated to our community college system to having them run well and achieve excellence. And I heartily recommend to you James Woody as our nominee to the State Board of Community Colleges. Thank you, Mr. President."

By Senator Foxx:

"I would like to commend to the Senators here the nomination of Mr. Woody also. As the Community College President for seven years I had the opportunity to work with him and other members of the Board. I have found him to be a very thoughtful, fair and good person, and I think his willingness to continue to serve is a good omen for the community college system."

By Senator Rand:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate. It has been my pleasure, of course, to know James Woody, but it also has been my pleasure to know his son, James III, who has been here a number of times as a page, and had the great pleasure to fly around the State with us on this Submerged Land Study Commission. We were in a old DC-3 and we fluttered and flipped around the coast of North Carolina. He survived that, so I know his Dad is a good man. I appreciate your support."

By Senator Soles:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentleman of the Senate. I think it is incumbent upon me to say just a word because you may think I've got a little conflict of interest here. The nominee, Mr. Woody, is my brother-in-law and I very much want to see him re-elected. As we left the Chamber on the evening of the nominations closing, Senator Winner came to me and brought to my attention that she thought the statutes said there had to be two nominees and there was only one nominated. So, there was about ten minutes left before the nominations would be closed and we interpreted the law as saying there had to be two, so I hastily nominated my secretary, Janet Puryear. That's how her name is on there. Janet is a very fine person. She could very well serve in the Board of Community Colleges, but I'm authorized by her to say that she would encourage you to vote for James Woody.(Laughter) James is an outstanding man; he has worked hard; he is a good person and I encourage you to vote for Mr. Woody. Thank you."

The President orders the Clerk to call the roll and directs the members to respond by stating the name of the individual for whom a vote is cast.

Those voting for James J. Woody, Jr. are as follows: Senators Albertson, Allran, Ballance, Ballantine, Basnight, Blackmon, Carpenter, Carrington, Clark, Cochrane, Conder, Cooper, Dannelly, Davis, East, Edwards, Forrester, Foxx, Gulley, Hartsell, Hobbs, Horton, Hoyle, Jordan, Kerr, Kincaid, Ledbetter, Little, Lucas, Martin of Pitt, Martin of Guilford, McDaniel, McKoy, Odom, Page, Parnell, Perdue, Plexico, Plyler, Rand, Sawyer, Shaw, Simpson, Smith, Soles, Speed, Warren, Webster, and Winner—49.

Those voting for Janet Pope Puryear are as follows: None.

In compliance with G.S. 115D–2.1(b)(4)f., Senator Winner offers a motion to the end James J. Woody, Jr. as chosen by the Senate be elected by an electronically recorded vote for a six–year term beginning July 1, 1995, and expiring June 30, 2001, which motion prevails by roll–call vote, ayes 50, noes 0, as follows:

Voting in the affirmative: Senators Albertson, Allran, Ballance, Ballantine, Basnight, Blackmon, Carpenter, Carrington, Clark, Cochrane, Conder, Cooper, Dannelly, Davis, East, Edwards, Forrester, Foxx, Gulley, Hartsell, Hobbs, Horton, Hoyle, Jordan, Kerr, Kincaid, Ledbetter, Little, Lucas, Martin of Pitt, Martin of Guilford, McDaniel, McKoy, Odom, Page, Parnell, Perdue, Plexico, Plyler, Rand, Sawyer, Shaw, Sherron, Simpson, Smith, Soles, Speed, Warren, Webster, and Winner—50.
